

BANKERS ADHERE FIRMLY TO IDEA

Believe Banks Subscribing to Big Loan Should Receive Better Terms

OPINIONS DIFFER

Adjustment Over Several Minor Proposals Is Still Far from Accomplishment

COMMISSION WINS PROPOSALS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The end of today's brief business session found the situation very unchanged with respect to the variance of opinion over the proposed Anglo-French credit loan, except perhaps that some of the American financiers were adhering more firmly to the idea that banks subscribing to the big loan should receive terms better than those given to the investor. Over this and the matter of including munitions of war, within the scope of the loan's operation, there was still marked difference of opinion between some American bankers and the Anglo-French financial commission.

Report is Too Optimistic.
These bankers want to have munitions excluded from the list of exports to be paid from the proceeds of the loans, it is reported, while the commission is said to be of the opinion that munitions should be included. Notwithstanding many rumors to the contrary there was every indication tonight that an adjustment of difference over these and other minor proposals was still far from accomplishment. During the day it was reported that an agreement had virtually been reached and that the success of the plan would be announced shortly, perhaps on Monday. This was too optimistic in the opinion of those who profess to know precisely what the situation is.

"We have not yet begun actual negotiations", one banker was quoted as saying. "Heretofore our discussion of possible terms had been confined to conversations. There is no definite concrete plan before us for consideration and I doubt if there will be before the middle of next week."

Commission Wins Several Points.
Viewed from the angle occupied by the American banker, the commission has won nearly every proposal so far and is standing decidedly firm on the others at present discussed. The first proposal that there would be no collateral—entirely upset all the calculations made by financiers here in advance of the commission's arrival. The bankers gave in and the commission won on that score.

As to the amount of the loan, the commission asked for a billion dollars while the American bankers had hardly considered more than half that sum as an outside figure. There is good reason apparently to believe that the commission will be satisfied with $600,000,000 to $800,000,000 and there seemed to-night good reason to believe that they would win on this score too.

The third detail was the interest rate. Bankers here had thought they would receive something for their services in underwriting the loan. The commission, it is understood, entertained no such opinion. With the exception of a vigorous minority of objectors, the financiers, from what can be learned tonight, had been preparing to surrender that point as well to the British and French visitors.

Demand Better Terms.
There is, however, a growing demand that the bankers be afforded better terms, notwithstanding the reported declaration of the commission that London and Paris will not pay anyone more than five per cent. The opposition to this stand on the part of the American bankers, it is said, is to the same degree as the opposition to having munitions included within the scope of the loan. In their negotiations with the commission the American financiers apparently have had in mind continually the blow which might be dealt American industry should the commission's fail in their work. At the beginning of parleys, the impression seemed to be gaining ground that, perhaps this dark picture was painted with a purpose and that in reality neither Great Britain nor France would let details of minor importance shut to the door of only great world market now left open. So far, if reports be true, the commission has hardly budged from its original tentative proposals. The time has now come, many American bankers feel for Great Britain and France, to make concessions.

With this decided variance of opinion reported to be existing between the negotiating parties there

GERMANS TAKE MORE RUSSIAN PRISONERS

VON HINDENBURG'S OFFENSIVE IN COURLAND IS MAKING HEADWAY

Vilna Is Nearly Surrounded—Tentative Claim to Have Brought Russian Offensive to an End—Muscovites Withdraw to Sereth River in Galicia.

London, Sept. 18.—With the armies in the west and at the Dardanelles remaining at a standstill and participating chiefly in artillery engagements and bombing operations, the battles on the eastern front continue to create the greatest interest. Even here things are not moving so rapidly as they did during the earlier months of summer although Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's offensive in Courland seems to be making considerable headway and there, as in the case of Field Marshal Von Mackensen's army further south, more Russian prisoners with machine guns but no big weapons are falling into the German net. Vilna is nearly surrounded and wonder is expressed that the Germans have not already taken the city which like the other towns evacuated by the Russians has been reduced to an empty shell.

Developing Offensive Near Riga.
Dvinsk, too, apparently will go when Vilna falls, although the offensive developed by the Russian along the shores of the Gulf of Riga immediately east of the town of Riga may compel the Germans to turn their attention in that direction. In the southeast the Germans claim to have brought the Russian offensive to the end, but it is not likely that any movement of great importance can be taken in that district which the German correspondents describe as a quagmire through which it is next to impossible to move transport wagons, let alone heavy guns.

What seemingly has happened is that the Russians, finding that their advance into Galicia was bringing their line out of alignment with the rest of the front, have withdrawn to the Sereth river which was at their back when they began their attacks that drove the Austro-Germans to the Stripa river, just north of the Galician frontier.

Russ More Aggressive.
On the other hand the Russians, reinforced, have become more aggressive in the fortress triangle of Rovno, Dubno and Lutsk and have compelled the Austrians to retire westward.

There is increased liveliness along the Serbian border an indication that the long threatened Austro-German attacks with a view to rushing help to the Turks are about to commence. The Serbians express the greatest confidence in their ability to defend the mountain fastnesses through which an invading army would necessarily pass.

ARRANGE "BIG NINE" SCHEDULE OF BASKETBALL GAMES FOR 1916

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Officers were chosen and schedules of games arranged for 1916 at the annual meeting of directors, managers and coaches of the Western Intercollegiate Basketball association (the "Big nine") here tonight.

Ralph Jones of the University of Illinois was elected president and Dr. C. C. Cooke of the University of Minnesota was re-elected and treasurer for the eighth consecutive term. The season opens on January 8th, 1916, and closes on March 13th, 1916.

WIBORG-FISH.

New York, Sept. 18.—Miss Olga Wiborg, one of the most prominent society girls of this city a relative of two great generals, W. T. Sherman and Nelson A. Miles, was married at 10:15 today at Easthampton, L. I. to Sidney Webster Fish, son of Sylvester Fish, and descendant of Peter Stuyvesant, the early governor of New York. Miss Wiborg is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wiborg, formerly of Cincinnati. She has been entertained by British noblemen, and has traveled extensively.

A special train took the guests from New York this forenoon. Owing to the death of the groom's mother, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, the wedding was a more quiet event than first planned. The bride, Miss Wiborg, was the only attendant. Benjamin Moore was best man, and the ushers were classmates of the groom at Harvard. A reception is being held today at the Wiborg country place, the Dunes, at Easthampton.

MAKE SATISFACTORY EXPLANATION.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Captain L. T. Waldron and Lieut. H. L. Gardner, 93 coast artillery, who were accused of having participated in toasts to the German emperor and cause, at a public restaurant in Portland, Ore., have made satisfactory explanation of the affair to the war department. Senator Chamberlain who called attention to published reports of the affair, has been so advised.

hardly seemed basis, in fact for the optimistic rumors that found circulation today.

Nor is there, it was said, basis for pessimism. The situation was said to be the encouraging—and virtually unchanged since yesterday.

ASK DECLARATION FROM BULGARIA

Allied Note Requires Bulgars to Take a Stand
One Way or the Other

IS NOT AN ULTIMATUM

Officials Await Answer as the Turning Point in the Balkan Situation

ADVICES ARE CONTRADICTORY

PARIS, Sept. 18.—The entente allies have presented a joint note to the Bulgarian government asking in effect that it declare itself as between them and the central powers. The note, however, is not in the nature of an ultimatum.

Fixes No Date For Reply.

The note, which was delivered to the government at Sofia, two days ago, was sent in pursuant of a decision by the allied powers to test the good faith of Bulgaria by submitting the recent concessions made by Serbia with the view of securing from Bulgaria a definite statement as to her position. Although the note does not fix a date for a reply and is not an ultimatum, diplomats familiar with its contents say it is of a nature requiring Bulgaria to take a stand one way or the other. It points out that the allied powers are now prepared to offer the Serbian concession on Bulgaria's claims to disputed territory and asks Bulgaria if the concessions secured through the joint offices of the allies will bring about Bulgaria's cooperation with the other Balkan states.

What if any reference is made to Greece is not disclosed but it appears to be considered that Serbia's concession should suffice to secure Bulgaria's absence to the Balkan Union. While the exact limits of the Macedonian territory which Serbia concedes are not known, the concession is believed to cover all territory east of the Vardar river, with a possible neutral zone west of the river.

Such a concession would give Bulgaria territory along her western frontier and would leave Serbia an opportunity to expand northward and westward the territory now controlled by Austria.

LEGATION SHOWS DEEP INTEREST.

A visit paid today to all the legations here of the Balkan states revealed them showing deep interest bordering on agitation on the latest turn of events. The general view expressed in Greco-Serbian quarters was that the note of the allies brought the question to a definite issue which would now permit Bulgaria to reach a determination whether to cast her lot with the entente allies or with the central powers. Bulgaria's advisers were somewhat contradictory concerning the nature of the note.

Regarding the agreement between Turkey and Bulgaria for the Turkish railway concession, the understanding here is that the arrangement has been made, but that the date for the transfer has not yet been definitely fixed. It was first announced that the transfer would occur tomorrow but this was later changed to Sept. 26th, and afterwards was reported to have postponed to October 6th.

Official and diplomats are now awaiting Bulgaria's answer to the allied note as the turning point in the Balkan situation.

RESTA SETS NEW WORLD'S RECORD FOR TEN MILES

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Dario Resta today made a new world's automobile record for ten miles at the auto speedway at Sheepshead Bay. His time was 5:32 4-5. Resta made the new record over a two mile course. His time for ten miles was at the rate of 108.03 miles an hour. Resta's previous record was 5:55 for ten miles made in Chicago a few weeks ago. He bettered his record by about 23 seconds.

SUBMIT DETAILED REPORT OF EASTLAND RELIEF WORK

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—Just eight weeks after the Steamer Eastland, laden with more than 2,500 pleasure seekers capsized in the Chicago river, drowning 812 persons, a detailed report of the work of relief was today submitted to Mayor Thompson by John J. O'Connor, director of the Chicago branch of the Red Cross. Disbursements are shown to have been $260,000 from the public relief fund, $100,000 from the donation of the Western Electric company, under whose auspices the fatal excursion was given, $85,000 from the company's death benefit association and $271,000 from insurance companies. With financial help from other sources the report estimates that approximately $850,000 will have been paid to those bereft by the disaster. The total expense attached to the distribution of the fund was less than $500.

FLOOD CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE IN TEXAS

CLOUDBURST IS FOLLOWED BY TWO DAYS OF HEAVY RAINS

Guadalupe River Rises Thirty to Forty Feet and Sweeps Away Houses, Cattle and Farm Property—No Loss of Life Reported.

San Antonio, Sept. 18.—A cloudburst at the head waters of the Guadalupe river in Kerr county followed by two days of heavy rains throughout the Guadalupe river has resulted in a disastrous flood which has caused damage estimated to-night at $250,000 to $500,000. In many places in Kerr and Bandera counties the river rose 30 to 40 feet and swept houses, cattle and farm property away. Several houses were wrecked by the flood but no loss of life has been reported. Twelve inches of rain fell in Kerr county in less than that many hours. More than a mile of track on the Kerrville division of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad was washed out, suspending traffic.

TO CARRY FIGHT TO SAVE CATTLE TO THE STATE SUPREME COURT

Mrs. Duran Reaches Decision After Failure to Secure Permanent Injunction.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Mrs. Scott Durand of Lake Bluffs, Ill., whose $35,000 herd of Guernsey cattle has been under quarantine, today announced her intention of carrying to the state supreme court the fight to save her animals from slaughter.

Mrs. Duran reached this decision after Judge Charles H. Donnelly of the circuit court at Woodstock, Ill., refused to make permanent, a temporary injunction obtained recently by Mrs. Durand at midnight the night before her cattle were to have been killed. The court ruled, however, that the writ remain in force pending an appeal to the state supreme court, a motion for which was made at once by Mrs. Durand's attorneys. The court suggested that while the appeal is being taken an attempt be made to cure the cattle and this will be done. Attorney General Lucey said that if the injunction were made permanent every farmer in Illinois who owned a cow would become a party to the writ and that the state of Illinois would find itself confronted with iron clad embargoes on livestock and dairy produce on all sides. He further declared that the result of such a procedure would mean the loss of millions of dollars.

DUMBA PROTESTS AGAINST REQUEST

Terms Action of United States In Asking for His Recall Unjust

ASKS LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Ambassador Complains of Restrictions Imposed Upon His Communications

TAKES EXCEPTION TO CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, a lengthy letter to Secretary Lansing given out tonight, protests strongly against the request for his recall.

Terms Request Unjust.

Dr. Dumba terms the request for his recall unjust and complains of the restrictions imposed by this government upon his communications with his home government. He says that the diplomatic representatives of the allies in this country enjoy an uncensored use of the cables, a privilege which is denied him. Dr. Dumba takes exception to Secretary Lansing's charge that "he confessed to having conspired to bring about strikes in American munition works," and declares that he has communicated with his government asking for a leave of absence that he may explain his position.

The action of the American government requesting the recall of Dr. Dumba was taken after it had received information from a copy of a letter the ambassador had sent to his government through James F. J. Archibald, an American citizen, traveling under an American passport. When Archibald's mission was revealed the ambassador admitted having entrusted Archibald with the letter to Vienna bearing on his plans for withdrawing Austro-Hungarian labor and handicapping American plants making war munitions for the allies.

Complains of Restrictions.
Complaining of the restrictions placed upon him through the American wireless censorship, the ambassador in his letter to Secretary Lansing says:

"As the Austro-Hungarian ambassador is and has been for many months past in the phenomenal position of being unable to communicate privately with his government, although our enemies are and have been permitted freely to use the cables for their secret code despatches without censorship, I have by the grace of your department, now been permitted to communicate with my government through the German embassy but to the extent only of asking for leave of absence to the end that I may in person explain my position and meantime to suspend judgment upon the charges contained in your excellency's message and am now awaiting a reply. I have not even been allowed to advise my government that I do not admit having conspired to do any act in violation of the laws of the country to which I am accredited and whose hospitality I have enjoyed and have no way abused. The message that I sought to have transmitted to that effect was rejected by your censor, as hereafter explained. In some unaccountable way this confidential message was communicated to the press and has been published.

Does Not Question Power.

"I, of course, do not and cannot question the power of government of the United States to dismiss me by handing me my passports and assuring me safe conduct home without assigning any reason therefor or on such grounds as it may deem sufficient without regard to my opinion as to its justice. When, however, your government sees fit to resort to the extraordinary and to me humiliating course of preferring charges against me to my government without advising me of the intended action or even intimating that such action is contemplated and to request by recall upon those charges as confessed, whilst at the same time refusing me permission even to communicate privately with my government, I respectfully protest against such action as unjust to me and contrary to diplomatic usage.

"I ask you in all fairness was ever an ambassador in a neutral country confronted with such a situation created and enforced by the government to which he is accredited whilst ambassadors representing enemies of his country have unlimited means of secret communication? If he has been made literally impossible for me to communicate privately with my government. Under such conditions I have no apologies to offer for having entrusted my letter to Mr. Archibald. If the conveying of letters abroad during this war is an offense, it is one of which most Americans are apparently ignorant as the courtesy has frequently been volunteered by my friends and is habitually practiced. It did not occur to me that it was improper nor am I able yet to see it in that light having regard to the entirely legitimate purposes I had in mind in the line of the

GERMANY WILL EXAMINE EVIDENCE CAREFULLY

VON JAGOW MAKES STATEMENT CONCERNING ARABIC CASE

Foreign Minister States Attitude of Government on Question of Submarine Warfare is Perfectly Clear—Points to Commanders' Instructions.

BERLIN, via London, Sept. 18.—The German government will give its careful consideration to the evidence concerning the circumstances which attended the sinking of the steamer rabic, submitted by the American government through Ambassador Gerard. Gottlieb Von Jagow, the foreign minister, made a statement to this effect in an interview last night, with the associated Press.

Concerning the Arabic case the foreign minister said: "We are sure that our offer to refer the case to The Hague for adjudication will provide a satisfactory settlement in case the United States and Germany are not able to adjust the question by direct negotiations. "We could not, you will admit, well go behind the report of the commander of our submarine, or question his honest belief, based on the Arabic's actions that the British captain was planning to attack his craft particularly as long as we had against it only press reports and the word of the British captain. And in this case the master and owners of the ship which discarded its peaceful character as unfortunately British ships repeatedly have done and assumed the role of aggressor, should be held responsible for the loss of life, not Germany.

To Thoroughly Examine Evidence.
"There may be room for honest difference of opinion on this point, however, and we are perfectly willing thoroughly to examine the summary of evidence which the American government has transmitted to us this very day, only a few hours ago, and which I have not even had time to peruse.

"As to the larger question of submarine warfare, the attitude of Germany is perfectly clear. Enemy passenger steamers will not be subjected to attack without warning, provided they respect the regular maritime code and will be sunk only when opportunity for safety of passengers and crew is given. Instructions to German submarine commanders on this point are very precise and definite and go as far as is possible to eliminate the possibility of error or accident. It rests very largely now with our opponent therefore to provide the necessary remaining safeguards for voyages by instructing masters to avoid suspicious or hostile actions or attempt at flight—perhaps best done by revoking the orders to attack submarines wherever possible and the promised rewards for such actions.

RECEIVE STATEMENT WITH INTEREST.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The statement of Foreign Minister Von Jagow in Berlin that the German government would consider carefully evidence in the Arabic case submitted by the American government was received with interest tonight by officials here as confirmatory of informal assurances to Secretary Lansing recently by Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador.

The petitioners complain that interest on first and refunding mortgage bonds due Sept. 1st, 1915, has not been paid. Dr. Dumba then outlines the circumstances under which he says he acted and his reasons for forwarding to the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs the letter which was the occasion for the request for his recall.

CONFEREES WILL URGE RECOGNITION

Believe Time Has Come to Recognize a Government in Mexico

TO MEET IN THREE WEEKS

Decision Will Be Reached as to the Elements on Which Recognition Should Be Conferred

NATIONS TO ACT SEPARATELY

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Secretary Lansing, representing the United States government, and the diplomatic representatives of Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Bolivia, Uruguay, and Guatemala, resolved at their meeting here today that the time had come for the extension of formal recognition to a government in Mexico.

To Meet in Three Weeks.

Three weeks from today another meeting of the conference will be held in Washington, at which a decision is to be reached as to the elements upon which recognition should be conferred. A formal statement issued by the conference declared that inasmuch as the factions themselves had failed to come to an agreement, recognition would be accorded to the de facto authorities possessing the "material and moral capacity necessary to protect the lives and property of Nationals and foreigners."

Each of the several governments, it was announced would itself "judge such capacity and recognition will likewise be extended by each government separately at such times as it may deem proper."

Will Examine Situation.

The several governments will endeavor to learn, however, not only what territory each faction controls, but what promise of stability the factions give that aspire to recognition. To determine exactly what is the status of different factions, the several governments will examine the situation, each in its own way. The United States will seek to form its judgment through long and exhaustive reports from its consuls supplemented by personal conferences in Washington between Secretary Lansing and representatives of all groups and elements. They will be heard impartially as to their claims and members of the Pan-American conference can attend such informal conferences or hearings if they desire but no obligation is imposed on any of the Pan-American governments to join the United States in such a course.

Today's conference lasted nearly three hours after which a statement was issued setting forth the decision to recognize a government and giving the reasons for this decision.

EXPECT NO DISAGREEMENT.

While some of the conferees may at the end of three weeks, reach different opinions as to the government that ought to be recognized confidence was expressed by many of the conferees that there would be no eventual disagreement, because the traditional policy of the Latin-American governments in any event is to follow the lead of the United States on such questions. Even those of the conferees who were doubtful themselves as to whether or not the recognition of General Carranza would be advisable did not hesitate to indicate that if the United States reached such a decision there would be identical and unanimous action as theretofore.

The general opinion of those conferees who would express themselves was that the Carranza movement was in the ascendancy from a military point of view and that unless unforeseen circumstances developed the requirements of "material capacity" would be satisfied, but whether or not the Carranza authorities possess the "moral capacity" for stable government is a question which the conferees thought would lend itself to further study and consideration.

JEWISH DAY OF ATONEMENT.

Farm Lands High.
Advances in the price of farm land in Morgan county and in other counties in Illinois are generally predicted. The statements are based upon the general crop conditions—that is, the returns from the wheat crop and the corn crop, but there is a general feeling of confidence that the right conditions will come before the season is over. Already lands locally have taken an upward turn and a number of farms being priced at from $10 to $25 an acre higher than was true earlier in the year.
A local banker believes that within two years' time the best Morgan county land will be selling temporarily at least at $300 per acre. He bases his opinion on his belief that with the great crops, the general return of good business and with a Republican congress making certain tariff changes, that a period of inflation will come and that the farm lands will be priced even on a higher level than the returns from the land exactly justify. Two years ago a great deal of Morgan county land was priced at from $225 to $250 per acre, and even if the local banker's prophecy does not come true, it is wholly reasonable to expect that the price levels of two years ago will be reached again with another year.

Fighting Livestock Disease.
It is not likely that a thorough understanding exists of the exact status of the regulations concerning foot and mouth disease. It seems that live stock can be shipped in to this county from East St. Louis but shipments cannot be made to that market even for immediate slaughter. Shipments cannot be made from Chicago here but can be made to Chicago for packing house purposes. There can be no question but that the state and government regulations occasioned by the recurrence of the foot and mouth disease work some hardship and quite frequently there is apparent a spirit bordering on rebellion on the part of livestock owners. Nevertheless those who insist that the slaughter of infected herds is absolutely essential if the disease is to be stamped out, seem to have a good many authorities in support of their argument.
The complaint most often made is because the restrictions undoubtedly are of great financial benefit to the packers. Because of the restrictions they are enabled to buy livestock at practically their own prices and are thus enabled to reap enormous benefits. With the national and state authorities and specialists generally insisting that these stringent measures are necessary to combat the disease, there seems to be no better course at hand.

Pushing Road Betterments.
Almost every day there come evidences of the wonderful widespread interest in the good roads movement. In Madison county appropriations have recently been made for the expenditure of $137,732 for the construction of bridges and the general improvement of roads. Peoria county is soon to vote upon the issuing of $500,000 for bonds. These instances are but two of a long list that might be mentioned. It is not generally known that an amendment made by the last legislature to the Tice law gives the voters of each township the privilege of levying an amount not to exceed $1 on each $1100 of assessed valuation, such levy to cover a period of five years and the money raised to be used for grading and oiling roads.

Before amended no provision was made for any betterments except hard roads, but this amendment makes it possible for individual townships to push the oiled road movement. The experimental work in this line has been so generally satisfactory that some remarkable advances are expected during the remainder of this year and in 1916. The cost of road oiling depends upon the condition of the road, as grading and dragging must be done before the oil is applied, but the average cost is from $250 to $300 per mile. Every Morgan county resident who has driven over the oiled roads in this vicinity following heavy rains has become an enthusiastic advocate of this particular type of road improvement.

Franchise Rights.
The commission form of government law is not perfect but it represents nevertheless some advanced ideas in municipal government. It embodies certain principles which proposed the protection of the interests of citizens. One of these is the section of the law which makes it necessary that every franchise question shall be put up to the people at the polls for an expression of their opinion.
The whole basis of the financial life and strength of a utility corporation is in its franchise. In the eyes of investors the franchise is a very important matter, and they gauge their ideas as to the safety of the investment largely upon the terms of the franchise and its length of life.

Thus the people are vitally interested in franchise questions and it is one of the strong points of the commission act that it takes cognizance of this right of the people to vote upon questions so intimately related with their own interests. Franchise questions have been pending in Jacksonville for several years and affairs are now in such state that it is practically certain that during the next year certain franchise provisions must be settled. The time is not opportune for the people to separate themselves from a right to vote on franchise provisions and thus delegate to a set of aldermen the rights which properly belong to them.

Why should the people of Jacksonville by their votes discourage and embarrass the men who for months have carried on the case before the State utilities commission, giving freely of their own time and money that cheaper light and heat may be had in the homes of their fellow citizens? Against all sorts of opposition this fight has been carried on, until at the present time there can be no doubt as to the final outcome. These men believe in the people, they have confidence in the present city council and have had their assistance and co-operation in a most active and persistent way in carrying the case to its present standing.

Conditions are excellent now for a commission finding equitable to all parties concerned and present city officials are entitled to a share of the credit for this status of the case. The attorney who is leading the movement for a commission government has declared that he resigned as city attorney when he was not allowed to prosecute cases against the local utility company because of operation without franchise. He has declared that he afterward became and still is an attorney for the company. He has declared that he believes the people should be allowed to vote upon franchise questions and now he is engaged in a campaign to take from the people that very right. Is the record consistent?

VOTE "NO" FOR JACKSONVILLE.
But two more days remain until the election at which the people of Jacksonville will declare whether the city shall continue under its present form or change back to the old aldermanic system. The question is one which really concerns the people of the city to a greater extent than do some questions of national importance. Certainly every man and woman who has the welfare of the city at heart will feel it a plain duty to give an expression of opinion at this election. There is no particular need at this time of reiterating the reasons for a vote to continue the present form.

It is well, however, to again call attention to the fact that no good argument has been advanced for casting aside the present form of government, recalling the present city officials, and going into a period of municipal unrest and uncertainty. The only real argument advanced for a change is the high sounding one of economy, but sifted to the bottom, it has been shown that in the matter of dollars and cents that a change at this time would be more costly to the city than the continuance of the present form.

In addition advancements are proposed and savings and conservation expected from the policies of the present administration, which they have not yet had the opportunity to put into full force and effect.

Keep this city from the reputation of a policy so vacillating that there is no opportunity for progress. Give the officials elected by the majority of the people a few months ago a chance to demonstrate their capacity or incapacity for managing city affairs.

Vote "no" at the election next Tuesday and you will cast a vote for Jacksonville.

Government Change Now Would Be Expensive.

For Jacksonville to overthrow the commission form of government and a set of competent officials elected only a few months ago will give the city an undesirable name throughout the state. This outside reputation, however, is a matter of secondary moment. It is of more importance that such action at the polls Tuesday would mean at least a two-year period of municipal uncertainty, which would retard all betterments now under way and make impracticable any further improvements for that period at least.

The discarding of the commission form would only be justified because there was promise of betterment and advancement by the change. There is no such promise and in fact the opposite is true. There is no reason to expect that a majority of the officials elected under the aldermanic form would be more competent or honest than the present city officials. There is absolutely nothing to be gained by a change at this time in the way of advancement.

The city is largely in debt and other expenditures are needed, and for several years to come good clear headed business management should rule in Jacksonville if city finances are to emerge from their present undesirable condition and get on to a strong, durable basis. With a change at this time there is absolute certainty of uncertainty for a 2-year period. It would take that long for the aldermanic system to get fully adjusted, and during that interim improvements which are greatly needed would suffer.

The light and water departments are in that condition where they demand the expenditure of more money and excellent judgment in operation. In the chaotic time which would come during the period of change these very important departments would suffer. Their continuance and development are of vital interest to the people and a vote "no" in the election next Tuesday will mean that you as a citizen realize the interest you have in building up these two departments.

MORTUARY
Perkins.
William Graves of Waverly has received word of the death of his sister, Mrs. Charles C. Perkins of San Francisco, who was formerly Miss Emma Graves and a niece of David and Michael Sanderson. Deceased was a graduate of the Woman's College with the class of '75. She was a member of the Methodist church and throughout her life took great interest in missionary work, for many years holding the presidency of missionary work among the Japanese on the Pacific coast.

Peters.
A message has been received recording the death of John Peters of Burlington, Iowa. The deceased was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Jacob Peters of this city. No details of the death were received.

Massey.
Miss Minnie E. Massey, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hart H. Massey, died Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the family home two miles southeast of the city. Miss Massey's death terminated a long period of suffering which dated back to an injury to her knee which she sustained as a child of eight years. So for a long stretch of twenty-five years she was a patient sufferer, as one joint after another in her body became stiff. For more than four years Miss Massey had been absolutely helpless and could not aid herself in any way. Despite this condition she maintained a calm, patient spirit and received the tenderest care from her parents and other relatives. Miss Massey was born April 13, 1882 and for eleven years had been a member of Central Christian church, although her condition had made it impossible for her to attend the services. She was also a member of Caritas lodge No. 625 Rebekahs. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hart H. Massey, three sisters, Mrs. Stella Mawson, Mrs. W. H. Mains and Miss Irene Massey, and one brother, Charles Massey. The funeral services will be held from the family residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock and will be in charge of Rev. Myron L. Pontius. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

MARK IDENTITIES CAR WITHOUT NAME PLATE
Contrary to precedent and custom among motor car manufacturers who distinguish their products by placing name plates or combination name and trademark plates on the radiator the new Cadillac Eight carries simply a coat of arms. The name Cadillac does not appear in its design; nor is there anything in its design to indicate the name of the car or the maker. Therefore it is unique among the insignia ordinarily used as marks of motor car identification.

The coat of arms is that of Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac. This French explorer, under special commission from King Louis XIV. of France, founded in 1701 a settlement on the present site of Detroit. The little barricaded village in the forest grew eventually into the city which is today the center of the automobile industry. When the Cadillac company was organized the name Cadillac was adopted as representative of Detroit, and the coat of arms of Sieur Cadillac was selected as the company's trademark.

This is the first time the heraldic device has been used by the Cadillac company in this manner, and the fact that it carries no name has been widely commented upon in automobile circles.

MAVERICKS

We love to sing a song of spring,
Likewise of summer weather,
The jingle of the sleigh bells
With winter goes together.

Of autumn we would like to sing
And frosty mornings fine,
But how the blazes can we
With the mercury ninety-nine.

Christmas comes but once a year to most communities. Springfield has two each year. One of them commenced Friday and will continue all this week.

The Scott County Herald tells us that in the early days barbers d.
the bleeding for the community, that being a favorite remedy for almost any kind of sickness. The barbers are still working at their trade, but probably now they just want to see how much the customer can stand.

September weather so far has convinced us that the man who painted September Morn had lots more sense than people gave him credit for.

The Germans have captured
Pinsk. They captured the Russian's goat some time ago.

It looks as though Uncle Sam will finally have to tan somebody down in Mexico. Of course all of the leaders are denying that their men are committing the depredations along the American border. The fact remains that somebody is and if it keeps up there will be but one alternative for Uncle Sam and that will be to take strenuous measures in abating the nuisance.

September Morn, September Morn, Whom people looked upon with scorn,
Because your attire was so forlorn
But now they know 'twas proper form.

Some Sweeper.

Sentence from a popular novel:
"He swept her into his arms."

In spite of the agitation going throughout the country for prevention of fires, some woman occasionally tries to start the kitchen fire with kerosene with the usual results.

Many a big husky who has been letting his father milk the cows all summer is now galloping over a football gridiron and getting rid of more energy every afternoon than it would take to plow a forty acre field of corn.

In a few weeks now the reports of the killed and wounded in the football squads of the big universities will be as appalling as the records from the battlefields of Europe. The only difference is that the reports will mostly emanate from the brains of the coaches of the squads.

Some people are making strenuous objections to American bankers loaning the Allies a billion dollars.
We don't see who has any kick coming. A man is supposed to be able in this country to do what he wants to with his money. We have known people to light cigars with ten dollar bills but were never able to indulge in such a luxury ourselves.

Many of the quiet weddings we read about in the papers are the means of creating riots a few years afterward.

The news that Miss Hinrichsen sends out that prisoners in Chicago police stations are not treated as well as horses is true but it is no news to most people. It is a fact that cannot be disputed that some men treat their horses better than they do their families and some of them don't live a thousand miles from Jacksonville.

The Northern Nut Growers association has offered a prize of fifty dollars for the boy or girl sending in the largest nut. Some boy or girl in Jacksonville should win that prize as we have several of the champion nuts of the country here.

After reading the reports of the McFarland-Gibbons fight in various papers we are as much at sea as ever about who won. Only one thing stands out prominently and that is that those who paid to see the bout lost.

The Carrollton Gazette says that a trust in Greene county is fully as bad as a trust down east and is as amendable to the law. We wonder if the Gazette is referring to the political trust of Mr. Rainey and Judge Jones.

While the naming of the new hotel,
The Douglas, in honor of Stephen A. Douglas, is commendable, we have always thought that a monument of some kind should be erected to the memory of that other illustrious citizen, war governor Richard Yates. During the war Gov. Yates was regarded as one of the strongest and most able supporters of President Lincoln among all of the governors throughout the United States. He was a figure of national importance both during and after the close of the war. It is to be hoped that some day the state of Illinois will wake up and make an appropriation to erect a monument to his memory.

MEREDOSIA TO HOLD HOME COMINGS YEARLY

CITIZENS ARE PLEASSED WITH EVENTS OF THREE DAYS JUST PAST.

Early Relics on Exhibition Old Settlers' and Soldiers' Day—Meredosia's Historic Story Told by H. H. Bancroft in Address to Veterans—Saturday's Prizes.

So successful were events of the past three days in Meredosia that before the First Annual home coming was over, plans were well under way for a second. Especially good was the spirit prevailing Saturday and Old Settlers' and Soldiers' day, with its program so conducive to local patriotism and its exhibit of heirlooms and other relics of the past, made a fitting climax for the home coming celebration.

In an address to old soldiers and sailors Saturday afternoon, Hon. H. H. Bancroft of Jacksonville, paid tribute to the veterans, referring especially to Gen. Benj. H. Grierson and Stephen A. Douglas. Gen. Grierson enlisted from Meredosia precinct and Douglas on coming to this state from Vermont made Meredosia his first stopping place. Mr. Bancroft was preceded by Rev. Mr. Hayden, pastor of the Meredosia Christian church, who gave an address of welcome.

The program Saturday began with music by the Meredosia concert band, an organization which under the leadership of Dr. Yeck has done excellent work during the home coming season. Readings by Miss Frieda Unland and Miss Gladys Galaway were features of the early afternoon program. There followed a flag drill by Meredosia young ladies after which Capt. J. E. Wright and William S. Lorton appeared with old time songs, receiving hearty applause with the rendition of "O Israel," "Marching Through Georgia," and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground." Dress parade at 2:45 o'clock was followed by the talk by Mr. Bancroft. Many old time relics were on display in store windows and on the stand for that purpose in the park. Old time costumes were worn by Miss Rena Hyde, Miss Bernice Skinner and Miss Edith Unland. The dresses belonged to Mrs. Kathryn Carver and the old time ladies' hats on display are the property of Mrs. Anna Mathers.

An interesting exhibit, it was on very short notice that the committee in charge of the home coming celebration decided to have an exhibit of "old things" in honor of old settlers' day. The collection of articles exhibited proved one of the most interesting features of the celebration. Among the articles shown were the following:

Sword cane, two hundred years old, property of Daniel Waldo and owned by his father Schubel Waldo. Tooth turn key, a primitive instrument used for extracting teeth, owned by Schubel Waldo.

Commission of Daniel Waldo as justice of the peace, signed by Gen. Reynolds in 1833, in possession of Miss Nellie Waldo.

Commission of Daniel Waldo as postmaster of Chesterfield, New Hampshire, signed by W. T. Barry, postmaster general, bearing date of 1831, in possession of Miss Jennie Waldo.

Peck's Gazetteer, published by Richard Gowdy, owned by Miss Jennie Waldo.

Confederate money of various denominations in possession of Miss Jennie Waldo. Japanese patch work exhibited by Mrs. Sarah Jane Waldo, aged 82 years. Various other articles by the same lady who was present and quite active for one of her years.

Wide Awake Badge worn by Thos. Hyatt with the words "Wide Awake—Lincoln and Hamlin". Ira Hyatt voted for Lincoln in 1864.

Wall pocket tent cloth made from uniform worn by Geo. Washington with medals and brass ornament worn by Washington over 135 years ago, owned by Miss Ann Mathews.

H. W. Kennitt of the Hunter-Alen Lumber company had an interesting exhibit of relics in his show window that attracted attention. Among the articles shown were: Wooden wheel clock made in 1804, property of J. A. DeBender. Horns from deer killed near Jacksonville by Veerlin Daniels; Bible published in 1817; copy of old Blue Laws on "The Code of 1650", republished in 1825; gun made by Alex. Wilday; cartoon of the Hartford convention of 1813; muzzle-loader, 75 years old; tile taken from floor in B. & O. depot when Garfield was shot; needlework in frame representing granddaughter and grandmother, property of Miss Sarah Huse. Needlework done in year 1812.

Picture of the first railroad train run on Northern Cross railroad and picture of first steam boat to ply Illinois River exhibited in Field's drug store, the property of Miss Nellie Waldo.

WRECKED VAULT OF CHURCH STORM REVEALS MARRIAGE LICENSE

Document Tells of Marriage of Son of Famous Pioneer, Daniel Boone, at St. Charles, Mo.

St. Charles, Mo., Sept. 18.—An account of the marriage of Daniel Morgan Boone, eldest son of Daniel Boone, the famous pioneer of the Ohio valley, was found today in the vaults of St. Charles Borromeo's Catholic church here, which was wrecked by a tornado on July 7.

The account of the wedding was written by Father Leander Lussion, priest of the church at the time of the marriage.

The account says:

"On March 2, 1800, have appeared before me, Frere Leander Lussion, recollect priest and pastor of St. Charles parish in Missouri, Daniel Morgan Boone, the legitimate and oldest son of Daniel Boone and Rebecca Bryan, his lawful wife, living at St. Charles, Missouri, on the one side, and on the other Sara Griffin Lewis, a younger and legitimate daughter of John Baptist Lewis and Elizabeth Harvey, his lawful wife, her parents living at the port of St. Andrew. The which parties have declared to me their intentions to bind themselves with the mutual pledge of marriage. After giving their oath on the Holy Bible to answer truthfully to all the points on which I must interrogate them, they have consented to answer.

"Being asked what religion they professed, the said Daniel Morgan Boone said he was a Presbyterian, and the said Sara Griffin Lewis said that she professed the Protestant religion. Being asked if they would promise to bring the children born of this union to the church of the place near their future dwelling to be baptised, and send them to be instructed in religion, they answered 'Yes.'

"Being asked if their parents were related within the forbidden degrees, so that, according to their religion, they could not contract marriage, they answered 'No.' Being asked from what country they came, the said Daniel Morgan Boone replied that he was a native of Virginia in the diocese of Baltimore, and that he was living here with his parents; and the said Sara G. Lewis replied that she was likewise a native of Virginia and that she lived with her father and mother.

"Being asked whether their parents gave their consent to their marriage, their fathers and mothers, being present answered, 'Yes, sir.' Being asked if they had been constrained by violence or threats or by force of authority to pledge their troth in marriage, they answered, 'No, sir.'

"After the aforesaid information and after the publication of bans on eight consecutive Sundays at the door of our church of St. Charles and also at the house of Mr. Mackey commandant of the said village and post of St. Andrew, the said Daniel Morgan Boone, has, in my presence, taken the said Sara Griffin Lewis for his lawful wife and pledged to her his marriage vow. And if return the said Sara Griffin Lewis has taken the said Daniel Morgan Boone for her lawful husband and pledged to him her troth. And I have received their mutual consent and united them in bonds of matrimony."

Good Bye Painful Corns

When your feet are not right—paining you—corns continually on edge—makes you hate to put your feet down solid, it makes life just about unbearable—you're wrong all over, day in and day out.

One of the simplest yet most effective methods of removing corns is to apply

Green Corn Paint

that's all there is to it—just apply it and don't fuss with bandages.

It relieves all pain, banishes discomforts and removes the corn when you've forgotten you ever had one. There is absolutely no danger of infection—it is thoroughly antiseptic—forms a coating over the corn, softens and relieves the pain following pressure of shoe.

promptly proceeded to have as good a time as possible and it seemed as if they were succeeding.
An especial effort was made to see that mothers of little folks were able to be present and a large number were there. The instructions to the principals in the several wards to name all the children who thought should go and wished to do so and if any one was omitted it was surely unintentional.
That soup was simply beyond discussion and a great many who had eaten burgoo before declared it was the best they ever tasted and to those to whom it was new it was a rare treat. Mr. Watson was overwhelmed with compliments during the day and he went home with the pleasant consciousness of having ministered about three hundred gallons of the delicious compound and after all had eaten all they could possibly contain there seemed to be a hundred gallons left.

When it was seen that there was so much left after all had been urged to eat a few were permitted to take some home and then supper was later announced and again the process of filling began till the last kettle was emptied and all had had enough.

Not a great deal was done in the way of special amusements before dinner as it was rather late by that time the last relay arrived. It is also pleasant to add that the street car service was very satisfactory. There was no undue crowding going out and all were permitted to return at will during the afternoon and it was late before all had gone as the day and all that pertained to it was so delightful it was hard to leave and it took a deal of shooing to get the little ones started as the hour of 6 drew near.

A very gratifying feature of the enterprise was the kindly manner in which it was regarded by every one and the way in which so many showed a willingness to add to the pleasure of the children when requested. On the grounds a number of volunteers aided not a little in serving the little folks and on every hand there seemed a desire to make the day a success in every way by material assistance or any other manner. It would be pleasant to mention by name all who in any way contributed to the success of the event, but there would be too much danger of leaving out some name. The only exceptions made will be the name of Isaac Watson, the veteran soup maker, who especially tried himself on this occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Kelly, custodians of the park, and Mrs. Kelly's sister, Mrs. Roberts, worked about all Friday night getting things ready and deserve special mention. Many others are also worthy but for reasons already assigned their names are not mentioned except Robert Lurton, volunteer assistant, and waiter, Supt. Collins and Messrs. Imgrund and Wells of the board of education were unavoidably kept away.

The Athletic Events.
Mr. Boxell handled these admirably. These took place on the bridge and caused great merriment. The following were the events and the results:

The Boat Riding.
There was not quite enough sale persons to row the boats and no risks would be taken. This feature was in especial charge of Perry White and he said he was certain every child had from one to half a dozen rides during the day. The threatening weather in the morning kept away some who would have helped in this way and the owners of the boats didn't get the oar boxes unlocked until late in the day but still the children had small cause for complaint on that score as a good part of the boats were kept going a great deal of the time and the merry shouts that went up from the occupants showed they were having a fine time.

Although the weather was rather cold a good many boys went swimming and made a lot of diversion for the children. The diving, fancy swimming and other features made much sport for the onlookers as well as for the bathers themselves.

The Playground.
Of course the playground came in for its share of patronage and the swings, teter boards, shoot the chutes and merry go round and all the other devices were kept in use from morning till night and well paid their cost yesterday. If the regular shoot the chutes into the lake had been in order it would have been well patronized too.

HIGH WATER AT VIRGINIA IS CAUSE OF DEATH BY DROWNING

Arthur Heyland, 10-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heyland, Is Washed from Bridge—Nephew of Mrs. George J. Chambers.

Mrs. George J. Chambers of West College street went Saturday afternoon to Virginia, called there by the death of her nephew, Arthur Heyland, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heyland, who was washed from the Clear Creek bridge and drowned about 11 o'clock the same day. Mrs. Chambers received a telegram at 11:30 and left on the afternoon C. P. & St. L. train.

The boy had been sent to a store by his mother and with some playmates ventured onto the bridge, which runs through the center of the town. On account of the high water of the past few days, the bridge was awash and sagging under the force of the current, permitted the boy to be swept to his death. The body was found lodged in some drift wood but a few hundred yards down the stream. Dr. W. R. Blackburn who was on the scene, did everything possible for the boy, but all efforts at resuscitation failed.

FARMERS HEARD IMPORTANT QUESTIONS DISCUSSED SATURDAY

Charles A. Rowe Talked About Seed Corn and John A. Groves Gave a Stacking Demonstration.

In the basement at the Ayers National bank Saturday afternoon a large company of farmers heard C. A. Rowe talk about seed corn and saw John Groves give a stacking demonstration. In addition Mr. Groves displayed a number of ploy shares and diagrams and explained a number of points about sharpening ploys and the best kinds to use. Mr. Groves had a large number of miniature bundles of grain and the system he followed resulted in a perfectly formed stack. A great many farmers do not know how to stack grain so that it will certainly shed water and they had the opportunity Saturday of hearing a number of good suggestions.

Mr. Rowe explained the different plans followed for the selection of seed corn, depending particularly whether the persons selecting seeks seed for his own use, to sell or to exhibit. Mr. Rowe said that some corn is now ready for selection. If the grains are well denting that may be taken as an indication that the ears are sufficiently matured. Corn so gathered should be carefully dried and some people believe that it should not be subjected to frost. Certainly it should be kept from frost until thoroughly dry. If corn that is sappy is subjected to severe frost it becomes useless for seed purposes. Mr. Rowe urged farmers to simply select good average well formed ears for seed and to do it as early as possible.

AGED CAVALRYMEN TO MAKE LONG MARCH

Connellsville, Pa., Sept. 18.—Members of Company K, 16th Pennsylvania cavalry, who distinguished themselves in the Civil war, are gathering here with their mounts to undertake a seven-weeks' saddle march to the old battlefield where they fought a half century ago. From Gettysburg, the veterans will ride to Washington, reaching the capital in time to take part in the reproduction of "The Grand Review," which followed the Civil war. Equipped as they were in 1865, when they rode their battle scarred steeds down Pennsylvania avenue before President Lincoln, these veteran horsemen of Pennsylvania will be the center of interest in the big parade of Sept. 29.

The veterans will be escorted by a detachment of Sons of Veterans and by a volunteer hospital corps. Moving pictures of the veterans will be made and historians will accompany the marchers.

FIGHTING PASTOR IS READY FOR CHURCH TRIAL

Rev. G. C. Richmond Refuses to Be Curbed by His Superiors in Philadelphia Church.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—Rev. Geo. Chalmers Richmond, rector of old St. John's Protestant Episcopal church of this city, who refuses to be curbed by his superiors has openly attacked Bishop Rhinelander, and has retained his pastorate even after a successor was named by the Bishop, will face the ecclesiastical court on Monday and stand trial on charges of violation of his ordination vows and conduct unbecoming a clergyman. The trial was set for last June, but was later postponed until Sept. 20. The five triers are: Rev. George C. Carter, Rev. J. Kennedy Moorehouse, Rev. A. A. Van Meter, Rev. Charles M. Holden and Rev. C. Roland Hill.

Although deposed by Bishop Rhinelander because of his attack on the Bishop and the filing of charges against Dr. Richmond, the latter has refused to give up his pulpit. Rev. Henry M. G. Huff was appointed to succeed Dr. Richmond at St. John's. But Dr. Richmond promised Dr. Huff a canon if he attempted to preach in the church, and Dr. Richmond organized his friends in the parish to prevent the new preacher from entering. It was a pleasant Sunday morning last June when the two preachers contended for the possession of wealthy St. John's church. Dr. Richmond was within the gates, which were barred against Dr. Huff. From his victorious position inside the portals, Dr. Richmond berated the preacher who had been sent by the Bishop, and told him that his presence was a sign of a desire on the part of some to cause scandal, disorders and schisms.

Assailed Pennsylvania.

Dr. Richmond has kept in the public eye through his outspoken views of the money influence in the church. He made Pennsylvania sit up and take notice by the following statement: "Pennsylvania is the most religious state in the Union, and it is also the most immoral. No state gives more attention to churches, Sunday schools and bible classes, yet the name of the state is synonymous with political trickery and religious degeneracy. The religion of many of its prominent men is not 'How can I help others?' but 'How can I fill my own pockets?' I would rather be in hell with some people than in heaven with some others. When the church in Philadelphia is called upon to make its choice between Jesus Christ and cash, it is found on the side of cash every time."

During the summer Dr. Richmond paid a visit to the Isles of Shoals, off the New Hampshire coast, where the Unitarians held evangelistic meetings. The "fighting pastor" had an interesting battle there also, the church doors having been locked against him. Undaunted, he declared he would preach if he had to break the doors down. The church key had been hidden, according to his story of the affair, and was not produced until he made the threat of battering in the door. The attempt to bar the preacher came about through opposition of a group who were dissatisfied with a lecture delivered in the music room of the hotel at Isle of Shoals, by Dr. Richmond. Somebody snapped the lights out at the hotel during the lecture, and the Philadelphia preacher declares he heard later that many of the Unitarians were displeased and wanted the advertised appearance of Dr. Richmond to be prevented.

Criticised Narrowness.

Dr. Richmond told the Unitarian summer colony at the Isle of Shoals that "There have been half a dozen or more old Unitarian ladies who have been coming here for a generation and have been setting up a sort of censorship over everybody else and the opinions of the clique have been accepted as gospel. They undertake to control the length of the skirts of other women who come here and if a man and woman arrive together there is an inquisition as to the date of the marriage certificate and the time and place and the when and where the ceremony was performed. This typical narrowness of view is something which must be overcome, otherwise it is nonsense to talk of church unity. There are some people so good they are good for nothing."

"I am ready for trial," says Dr. Richmond, regarding the ecclesiastical proceedings brought by Bishop Rhinelander. "These charges have been pending since last December, when I dared to criticize the Bishop, and threw open not only my church but my altar to preachers of other evangelical denominations. Bishop Rhinelander was elected through corruption influences, and undertook to discipline me because I allowed labor leaders to speak at the church during the convention of the American Federation. All the bishop's efforts have been in vain, and now he seeks to unfrock me. St. John's has had a century of honorable life, and is not deserting me in this crisis. I have no fear of the outcome."

Among the documents which will be exhibited to the ecclesiastical court are evidence against Dr. Richmond are letters which he wrote. One is addressed to Bishop Rhinelander, accusing him of sending "ecclesiastical spies" to St. John's church.

HAS BALLOTS READY.

City Clerk R. L. Pyatt completed the work Saturday afternoon of sealing the ballots and apportioning supplies for the judges of election for the election which will be held Tuesday. The job has become one of some size since women have been allowed the right of suffrage. In all the clerk has to have about 18,000 ballots printed, as the law requires that twice as many ballots be printed as there are actual votes.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS A FAITHFUL WORKER.

Twenty-five years is a long period of service in one occupation, yet that is Jerry Sweeney's record as a merchant policeman. On Oct. 1, Mr. Sweeney will have completed that number of years policing the merchants on the south side of East and West State streets. During all of those years he has lost but thirty-two days. The longest period he has ever been away from his work was in 1893, during the world's fair in Chicago when he took a vacation to attend the fair.

The first man to inaugurate the merchant's police work was Anthony Kennedy. This was about Aug. 17, 1883. Mr. Kennedy had the south side of the business section. It was largely an experiment to begin with. It proved so successful that a few years afterward Isaac Hicks began work as a merchant police on the north side of town. Mr. Hicks began his work in 1883 and only retired a few years ago. Richard Murgatroyd who worked for Mr. Hicks for some time before his retirement is now doing the work on the north side of the business section.

Mr. Sweeney first began work as a substitute for Mr. Kennedy, Oct. 1, 1890; he began as a regular merchant policeman. The work at that time was mainly the watching of business houses. Since then the work has broadened and it would take a man of much experience to step in and do Mr. Sweeney's work at the present time.

Among some of the things that he does in addition to seeing that merchants lock their doors and windows is calling the operators in the office of the Illinois telephone at least every hour. Mr. Sweeney calls the operator and takes her number. This number and the time of the call is placed in a book and the next day the record is turned over to Manager Holliday.

Another duty is to light the gas under the metal points of the line-type machines at the Illinois Courier. Mr. Sweeney also has a number of early calls to make of men who work in offices. He also has window lights to turn out and stores to enter and turn out lights.

Figures are usually dry things and yet sometimes they are interesting. Not figuring the years in the last twenty-five that have been leap years Mr. Sweeney, with his thirty-two days that he has lost in the last thousand and ninety-three days, or rather, night or the job. That is a lot of nights but it must be remembered that he works every day in the week and Sunday is just the same as any other day.

In his work Mr. Sweeney makes probably an average of a round trip of his beat every hour. It is likely that he makes at least ten trips in a night. Figuring each of these round trips at a mile and that is a conservative estimate he has walked in the twenty-five years thirty thousand nine hundred and thirty miles. That is nearly four times around the world. Mr. Sweeney seems to have thrived on the job for he looks just about like he did twenty-five years ago.

During his long service Mr. Sweeney has looked after the interests of his clients in such a manner that no robbery of any importance has ever been committed in his territory. Many fires have been discovered by him in their incipient and the alarm given in time to stop a costly conflagration. It is the hope and wish of Mr. Sweeney's friends that he will be on the job for many years to come. There is little doubt but that the merchants who are his clients appreciate the faithful service he has given for so long a period.

GAY SHIRTS

With stripes of yellow, blue and green, and pink and purple in between the kind of shirts we're wearing now would far the antlers from a cow. Who are these gay and giddy shirts who hound down fashions in men's shirts? Do they wear these front side behind, or are they merely color blind? When I jog down the village street, I wear same shoes upon my feet; my outer garments all are mild, by freaks of fashion undelled; my lid's an unassuming one, its color brown, approaching dun, my rage don't meet the public eye, I am no rainbow in disguise. But modest folks feel pained and when they behold my screaming shirt. "Since when," they ask, "O ribald soul, have you become a barber's pole?" "Since my good frau went chasing down to study fashions in the town. She'd rather see me lying dead and planted where the daisies spread, than wearing garments out of date, and hence this shirt, whose hues I hate." With gaudy stripes and gorgeous bars, and purple dots and yellow stars my shirt is cutting lots of crass and nudes are shying as they pass.

FROSTED CORN SILAGE HAS A HIGH FEEDING VALUE

Farmers Can Save Corn Which Fails to Mature by Putting it Into the Silo Immediately After the First Frost.

The fact that corn if frosted and immediately put into the silo will still make good silage may prove of great advantage to corn growers in certain sections where the lateness of the present season may prevent the corn from ripening or reaching the glazed stage before the first frost, according to the dairying experts of the department of agriculture in the weekly U. S. government report. Those who have not been intending to make silage of their corn should find this information very useful in the event that corn can not be harvested in the ear.

The best corn silage, of course, is produced where the corn can be put into the silo after it has reached the glazed stage. In an emergency, however, where the corn has not reached the glazed stage before frost, it is better to give it all the growing time possible, even if it has to be put into the silo immediately after the first frost. Every extra growing day after the corn has reached the milk stage adds very much to the solid constituents of the silage, as in these last few days there is a very important transfer of material from the roots into the stalk and ear of the plant. In fact, the corn plant when it reaches the milk stage contains only about 65 percent of the dry matter that it contains two weeks later.

Has Large Starch Contents. Aside from the increased feeding value, the corn when it has reached the glazed stage contains a much larger percentage of starch, and a smaller percentage of sugar. The high proportion of sugar in immature corn is one of the main reasons for the high acidity in the silage made from it. The amount of acid in the silage is found to be very nearly in proportion to the sugar present in the corn.

Where it has been necessary to delay until after the first frost to cut the corn for silage, it is essential that the plants be not allowed to stand frosted in the field. They must be cut and put into the silo at once. The chief effect of the frosting it will be found, is to reduce somewhat through evaporation the water content of the plants. In packing frosted corn, therefore, it will probably be necessary to add some water to the blower as the corn is being run through the cutter. The amount to be added depends very largely upon the stage of maturity. If cut when the kernels are beginning to dent, the lower leaves are often quite brown and naturally need some extra moisture. At any rate, only water enough should be added to make the material damp, so that it will pack firmly. Where frosted immature corn, not even near the glazed stage, is packed, little or no water probably will be required.

In the above discussion reference is had only to the corn plant.

Dates of Average First Frost.

The following data as to the average date of occurrence of first frost and the earliest frost recorded in the different sections may be of service to the farmers in sections where the crop is late, in planning their emergency silage operations. It must be understood, however, that these dates are merely average, and are not to be taken as absolute for frost appearance in any particular year.

In the principal corn-producing sections on a line extending roughly from central Nebraska northward over extreme northwest Iowa, southern Minnesota, and central Wisconsin the average date of first killing frost is about September 25. To the eastward of the Mississippi no important corn-producing areas receive killing frost on the average before about October 5. In the more southern portions of the belt from southern Kansas eastward to Tennessee the time of occurrence is prolonged until the last 10 days in October. In this connection the earliest date in fall on which killing frost has occurred and the latest date reached without its occurrence become of interest. From Nebraska and Kansas eastward to the Appalachian Mountains the earliest recorded occurrence ranges from September 10 in the northern portions to about September 25 in the southern, while for the same districts the time of occurrence has been known to be delayed in the northern portions until the last 10 days in October and in the southern portions to well into November.

Boston Gets Twenty-two Hits For a Total of Twenty Runs in Initial Contest—Capture Second by a 6 to 3 Score.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Boston closed the season with St. Louis here today, improving its standing in the pennant race by trouncing the locals severely in both games of a double header. The contests were marked by terrific slugging, a fast duel adding zest to the first game. In the two games the visitors gathered a total of 33 hits, 13 of them extra bases.

Griner, Perdue, and Niehaus were extremely wild and before the first game had gone two innings Boston piled up 11 runs off of 6 hits including two triples and a double.

Sallee was hit hard in the second game while Ragan kept the locals' hits well scattered.

"MORNING GLANCES" (By Gosh)

The White Sox won a double header from New York yesterday, the first 7 to 3 and the second 4 to 1. The wins by the Sox evened up the series. In the first game the hitting of Jack Fournier brought victory. Fournier scored two runs and his two hits were a triple and a home run. In the second game Russell and Mogridge had a pitchers' battle in the second game Russell holding New York to five hits and winning.

Cleveland and Philadelphia broke even in a double header yesterday. Philadelphia won the first game 7 to 5 while the second went to Cleveland 5 to 1.

New York and Pittsburgh split a double header Saturday. In the first game Mathewson was batted from the rubber in the fifth inning. Pittsburgh scoring three runs. In the second game Tesreau was effective and New York had no trouble in winning.

Philadelphia won from Cincinnati yesterday by a score of 4 to 2. Passes by Dale and opportune hitting gave Philadelphia enough runs to win.

Boston won from Detroit yesterday in a great game by a score of 1 to 10. It took the Red Sox twelve innings to break through the Tiger's defense but they finally did and won out. However, if it had not been for Young falling down on a double play it is probable that the game would have ended in a draw on account of darkness. The Tigers hit the ball hard but brilliant fielding kept them from counting a run.

MINNEAPOLIS CINCHES PENNANT
Minneapolis, Sept. 18.—Chicago. Its this afternoon clinched the 1915 American association pennant by defeating Cleveland, 9 to 4, while St. Paul was losing to Indianapolis. If the home team loses both games tomorrow, it still will win the pennant. The pennant snatching was regarded locally as a personal triumph for the veteran manager, Joe Cantillon, winding up his sixth season as manager of the local team having a record of four pennants, one second and one seventh place. The team this year was not considered even a first division possibility until well into the middle of the season.

RED SOX DOWN TIGERS; STRENGTHEN LEAD

TAKE SENSATIONAL TWELVE INNING GAME.

Tigers Carry a Powerful Offensive, But Time After Time Threats Are Thwarted by a Phenomenal Defense—Both Twirlers Are in Fine Form.

Boston, Sept. 18.—The Boston Red Sox today strengthened their claim to American league leadership by winning from the Detroit Tigers a sensational game of twelve innings. Although a contest of one one run, it was replete with situations that called out the best tactics, offensive and defensive of both teams and included some remarkable fielding. With its setting in a crowd of 37,528 persons, who fringed the field of play the game was considered one of the most memorable ever played.

In their effort to pull down the leading Red Sox team the Tigers carried a powerful offensive almost around the bases. But time after time its threats were thwarted by a phenomenal defense. During the early part of the game, the play was for the most part in the infield, but later the balls were sent speeding up to the standing crowds, making it necessary for Speaker on one occasion to shoulder his way through the throng to catch Cobb's hard hit ball.

Hooper was almost on the toes of the crowd in the next inning, the tenth, when he pulled down Crawford's drive. Two double plays, brilliantly executed, were features of the game. One, by the members of the Detroit infield removed an advantage gained by Boston when Barry doubled into the crowd. Another came shortly after Detroit had placed a man on every base without an out.

Cobb was removed on a force play at the plate. Then Young hit to Gainer and while the Detroit base runners floundered about, literally in one another's way, Veach was caught at home and Crawford at third.

For a time the Boston fielders had been at a loss apparently to know what to do with the ball, but a word from Captain Barry brought Gardner to third base to force out Crawford who had been caught between second and third with the first two bases occupied.

By hits and an intended pass Boston also filled the bases in the twelfth and Manager Carrigan, taking the pinch hitter's burden upon himself, rapped to Bush. With one already out, the little shortstop tried to start another double play but Young failed him when he dropped the ball and Lewis raced home with the long sought run.

The pitching of Shore and by Coveleskie was of a finished order and both appeared to improve as the contest lengthened. Score:

FIGHT INTERRUPTS GAME.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—A fight between Robert Bescher, left fielder for the St. Louis Nationals and Richard Rudolph, pitcher for Boston interrupted the first Boston-St. Louis game at the end of the third inning today.

The fight took place as the teams were changing sides. The trouble resulted from hot words that passed between the players after Bescher had gone out on a grounder. Bescher struck Rudolph on the jaw, knocking him down and falling on top of him. Several blows were exchanged and then players and policemen separated the fighters.

The boxing fans have their eye on Denver, where Charlie White is billed to go 20 rounds with Freddie Welsh a week from Monday. White has been showing well and will give the champ a lot of trouble, according to eastern opinion.

TY COBB RECOVERS HIS BATTING EYE

ADDS SEVEN POINTS TO HIS MARK OF LAST WEEK.

Stick Work of Georgia Peach Will Greatly Help the Battling Tiger to Overhaul the Boston Red Sox.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Tyrus Cobb has recovered his batting eye, according to averages published here today. The Georgia Peach is now making his daily hit or two, and this work will greatly help the battling Tigers in the struggle they are making to overhaul the Boston Red Sox in the American league pennant race. Although far from the 100 mark which he established some weeks ago, the great Ty has added seven points to his mark of last week. He still is in the lead by 57 points, with an average of 377. Speaker of Boston being the runner up with 350, and Jackson, Chicago, next with 319. Others following this trio are: E. Collins, Chicago, 315; Crawford and Veach, Detroit, tied with 313; Melnis, Philadelphia, 311; Fournier, Chicago, 310; Strunk, Philadelphia, 301; Howard, St. Louis and Kavanaugh, Detroit, tied, with 296; Gainer, Boston, 295.

Cobb's chances to establish a new batting mark for the season are exceedingly slim. But Tyrus is almost certain to establish one new mark this year. He is only three bases shy of tying the American league stolen base record made by Milan of Washington, in 1912. The record is 88 bases and Cobb is leading the league with 85, including games of Wednesday. Cobb also leads in runs scored with 133 and number of hits made with 189.

Detroit also claims another number in totals bases with 253. He has made 31 doubles, 19 triples, and four homers.

Burns, another Tiger who has been tied by Oldring of Philadelphia. Each had five.

Detroit leads in club batting with 268; Boston is second with 264 and Chicago with 259 is third.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES.

The college opens its seventeenth year with the largest attendance it has ever had. The college home is full, every room in the house being occupied. There are 250 people in the dining room. Considering the very large attendance, enrollment has proceeded rapidly and satisfactorily, and the classes are already in good working order.

The freshman class has more than 80 students. The senior college class has 21 candidates for the Bachelor's Degree. There are altogether about 200 students in the college classes and a hundred students in the academy classes. The first year college English class has more than 90 students, so that it will have to be divided into three or four sections. The first year college history class enrolls 48, and the first year college bible 55.

The increase in practically every department of the college. There is a large increase in the special departments. The time of the music teachers has been filled very rapidly. Miss Knopf reports more students in art than she has ever had. The domestic science classes are unusually full and the department of expression will show a good increase.

Quite a number of students in the special departments are coming in next week, and enrollment will continue for probably two or three weeks yet.

The very generous gift of Dr. Strawn, who has during the past week deeded to the college the beautiful property on West State street, known as the Ayers property, has caused much rejoicing and is greatly appreciated by all friends of the school. It is evident that the friends of the Illinois Woman's College are beginning to realize its need of endowment and special equipment and are making up their minds to provide for it in a generous way.

Miss Marion Fairbank has generously remembered the library during the past week by a gift of magazines, practically an entire set of the Review of Reviews and a large number of volumes of the Independent. A check was received this morning from Dr. A. C. Piersel of Urbana for the purchase of books for the department of biblical literature. The Women's Guild of Jacksonville have the interests of the library especially in mind and are planning for some thing worth while in the near future.

The helpfulness of the Christian Association girls during the opening week has been greatly appreciated. They met new students at the train, helped them register and find their way about the buildings. They provided a fine picnic supper at the east woods on Thursday evening and they have issued invitations for a students' reception Saturday evening. It would be impossible for a new student to feel lonesome at the Woman's College.

The Students' Association have issued a very interesting and beautiful handbook of information for new students, and meetings have already been held and committees organized for making the self government plan still more helpful and effective than before.

A most interesting address was given in the chapel on Friday morning by the Rev. Thomas Moody, Baptist missionary from the Congo States. There was not time for Dr. Moody to talk very long, but he said a great many very interesting things and aroused much missionary enthusiasm.

Plans are already well under way for the observance of Founders' Day, which will this year be on Friday, October 15th. An address will be made by Senator Sherman, who is one of the trustees of the college, and an interesting program arranged for the entire day.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

Sept. 19.

Capt. John H. Parker, U. S. A., who organized the machine gun branch of the infantry service of the United States army is 49 years old today. Capt. Parker devised and organized at Fort Leavenworth in 1903 the first model machine gun detachment, which was made permanent by the war department. He was later assigned to special duty to develop the plan for a machine gun company with each regiment. He had been in command of the Gatling guns at Santiago, Cuba, and saw the necessity of equipping all American forces with the rapid-fire machine guns. That his ideas were timely is shown by the general adoption of machine guns in the European war.

Capt. Parker was born at Tipton, Mo., Sept. 19, 1866, and was graduated from the military academy in 1892. When the Spanish-American war broke out he headed a volunteer regiment to Cuba. Later he was sent to the Philippines where he saw two years of service. In the second Cuban intervention, he acted as the adviser of the governor of Matanzas, and had charge of the municipal improvements in that province. A few years ago he brought forward a scheme to change the promotion methods in the army, his idea being that men of distinguished service should be promoted and the present system of linear promotion modified to favor men who distinguished themselves in the service.

Hon. Key Pittman, U. S. Senator from Nevada, 43 years old today.

Sir William H. Lever, member of the British board to control liquor, 64 today.

Sir Arthur Nicolson, under secretary of the British foreign office, 66 today.

Hon. Thomas J. Scully, congressman from New Jersey, 47 years old today.

Mrs. Glenn Johnson, of Springfield, was a visitor in Jacksonville Saturday and went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Hills in the vicinity of Franklin.

MARSHALL POTTS DIED

RECENTLY AT WHITE HALL

Deceased Was One of Early Graduates of Illinois College—Had Notable Army Record.

The following article from the White Hall Republican refers to a man well known and respected in Jacksonville.

William Marshall Potts, known here as "Marshall", was a member of the class of 1857, at Illinois college, graduating with Hon. N. W. Branson, S. R. Capps, Col. Geo. H. English, Dr. John B. Fairbank, W. H. Gibbs, Hon. Chas. D. Kerr, Rev. Jas. McLaughlin, Hon. Jas. Shaw, Edwin K. Symonds, Pres. E. A. Tanner and Rodolphus K. Turner; constituting one of the most notable classes from "Old Illinois".

Mr. Potts was here at commencement time in 1912 when S. R. Capps and Col. English were also present. Now the latter is the only survivor of his class.

Mr. Potts was a member of Sigma Pi society.

The sketch in the Republican was as follows:

Following an illness of less than two weeks, William Marshall Potts died at his home on West Bridgeport street. He was taken ill with bronchitis, as noted in the Republican last week, and pneumonia developed, which caused his death quite unexpectedly. His son, Dr. H. A. Potts, of Chicago, was with him during his illness.

Mr. Potts was a native of White Hall township, his parents being Anthony and Mary Green Potts, and he was born on the Potts homestead farm, two miles west of White Hall, July 22, 1832. His age at death was, therefore 83 years, 1 month and 3 days.

Our subject received his early educational training in the district school, and later attended Shurtleff college at Alton and Illinois college at Jacksonville.

His first wife was Miss Mary Stuart of Clinton, New York, and following her death he and her sister, Miss Rosamond Stuart, were married, she dying about twelve years ago. Two children survive, they being Dr. H. A. Potts, of Chicago, and Miss Alice Potts, at home. Stuart died at the age of about ten years.

Funeral services were conducted at the home at 2 o'clock Thursday. The discourse was delivered by Rev. A. F. Ewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church. He was one of the most honored members of the church, uniting with that institution March 12, 1905. The G. A. R. post carried out services at the house. G. A. R. veterans served as pall bearers. The interment was in the White Hall cemetery.

Mr. Potts was a man of high literary attainments, and he has always been identified with literary societies of a public character, and in later years was a leading member of the Topic Club.

His greatest interest centered in Grand Army affairs, and he has represented the local post at state and national encampments. He was president of the White Hall Soldiers' Monument Association from its organization until his death, and took a leading part in bringing about the erection of the handsome soldiers' monument in the White Hall cemetery, presiding at the dedication.

Mr. Potts had a notable record of service with the union army during the civil war. He enlisted as a member of company A, 61st Illinois, at Carrollton, December 7th, 1861, and was made orderly sergeant of his company immediately. The company was one of three from Carrollton to join the regiment organized by Col. Jacob Fry of Carrollton. The first engagement was at the battle of Shiloh, April 6 and 7, 1862. During this historic conflict he had command of his company while yet orderly sergeant, the first lieutenant having been killed and the other officers being conspicuous by their absence. For meritorious service in this engagement Mr. Potts was made first lieutenant on April 15th, 1862. On May 1st, 1864, he was promoted to quartermaster. The regiment went through the Vicksburg campaign and participated in the battle of Vicksburg in a minor way. On February 15, 1865, he was made brigade quartermaster under Colonel Graves. He was mustered out on September 8th, 1865, as quartermaster. The only known survivors of his company are Revel Pinkerton, S. J. Riggs, L. N. Ballard, of White Hall; Squire Reamer of East St. Louis, and Charles Jewel of Rockbridge.

LIKE A SUBMARINE

The Fur Seal In Many Ways Resembles an Undersea Boat.

ITS HABITS IN THE WATER.

Although It Can Swim Only When Submerged and Must Rise to the Surface Every Few Minutes, It Is a Marvel of Speed.

We have come to regard the soaring albatross or the condor as the prototype of the aeroplane. When we look for a natural model for the submarine we find it well made in the body of the fur seal and fully suggested by its method of progression in the sea, for it travels there only when wholly submerged.

Unlike, however, the "unterseebote," the fur seal is not fitted for swimming on the surface; it only rises there to survey, to breathe and to sleep. It never attempts to swim with head above water on any course, no matter how short. It rises when undisturbed or not alarmed, looks about with head and neck well stretched up above the surface of the sea, fills its lungs with air literally compressed, turns its head down and with its powerful anterior flippers drives itself below the surface to the depth of five or ten feet, then ahead on that level. Thus submerged the body of the seal glides through the water as swiftly as a swallow in the air—it is a vanishing streak to our eyes.

How long it remains thus submerged when traveling no one has any definite knowledge, but the best consensus of opinion gives it a rise at intervals of every three or four minutes to breathe—that is, a pause of less than two or three seconds, with barely more than its nose and eyes above the surface, for exhalation and renewed inhalation—when down goes the trim body to speed ahead again.

When our submarines were first brought out a trip of more than 300 miles from base was the utmost limit of their cruising. Today they have been so perfected that they can cruise safely more than 3,000 miles from that base. Therefore in this connection it is interesting to know that the fur seal makes a submarine journey in the north Pacific ocean of more than 5,000 miles from its base on the Pribilof islands, in Bering sea, and then returns.

An animal which can not only make such an extended journey, but can steer its course over an uncharted waste from point to point, month by month, with positive regularity and in perfect time, must be a fine type of swimming machine, and it is.

There is to be observed a close resemblance between the cigar shaped submarine boat and the body form of the fur seal. As we view them laterally, this resemblance is complete. They are both driven ahead by feathering screws, and they are both kept on the level of their submerged course at a given distance below the surface by rudders.

Then we observe that the periscope, to which the submarine craft owes all of its efficiency, is duplicated exactly by the seal's nose and eyes and which are all that it ever lifts above the surface when startled and in flight of passage.

Again we note that the fur seal as a submarine has a great advantage over the human boat—it has eyes that can look ahead and around under water—how far we do not know, but it is reasonable to assume that the seal's eye can see as far under water as the eye of a camera can, which we have the evidence of in good records.

Then, too, it also has an acute sense of hearing under sea, for we know that the whirling of a propeller's screw will drive all the seals away for miles around a steamer. We know that because some of the early pelagic sealing vessels were fitted with small auxiliary screws, and these, when put into use, had to be removed.

With reference to the powers of destruction, of course our fur seal boat has no torpedo tubes, but it can and does "shoot its mouth off" at fish with a deadly certainty.

In this connection it is interesting to note that seals do not catch fish by pursuit of them—not at all. They shoot down from above upon the backs or up from below to strike at the bellies of their finny prey.

How fast these phocine submarines can speed up under the stimulus of excitement or fear no one knows. But it is well known when a vessel is coming down before a gale of wind from the islands, logging fourteen to sixteen knots, that a bevy of fur seals will often follow the ship for hours and repeatedly swim by it, swim around it and then renew the chase and circling of it—Henry W. Elliott in New York Times.

Why He Missed Her.

"So you're little Willie Woodby?" said the new minister after Sunday school. "I called to see your mother yesterday, but, unfortunately, she was not at home."

"Oh, yes, she was," replied the boy. "but I guess she took you for the installment man. You look somethin' like him."—Philadelphia Press.

A Possible Solution.

"How can a man be as stupid as that fellow and live?"

"Some of the men at the club have a theory that he was raised on a vacuum bottle."—Judge.

A man without patience is a lamp without oil.—De Musset.

The Mississippi, according to John Fiske, it was in the year 1519, 161 years before the Mayflower reached Plymouth rock, that the Mississippi was seen by the eyes of a white man. Says Fiske: "Proof was already at hand that Florida was not an island, for in 1519 Alvarez de Pineda had followed that coast as far as the site of Tampico, in Mexico, where he found Cortes and his men. Pineda then turned back and after awhile entered the mouth of the Mississippi, which he called Rio de Santa Espiritu. He seems to have been the first European to sail upon this great river. How far he ascended is not clear, but he spent six weeks upon its banks trading with Indians."

RICKENBACKER AND BURMAN SEE NEW AUTO SPEEDING MARKS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 18. World's records for automobile speeding over a mile circular concrete track were made at the Narragansett Park Speedway in one mile and 100 mile events today. Bob Burman drove around the circuit once in 45.73 seconds and Eddie Rickenbacker did 100 miles in one hour, 29 minutes, 24.74 seconds.

Burman's time was made in a lone drive, Rickenbacker won with thirteen other drivers. He lost three miles by engine trouble but his daring driving put him a mile ahead of the field at the finish. Burman gained second money in the $10,000 distribution for this race. Willie Haupt was third and Ralph DePalma, fourth.

APPLY FOR WORLD'S SERIES TICKETS.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—On the expectation that the Philadelphia team will win the National league baseball pennant applications for world's series tickets are pouring into the offices of the club. An official said today that all applications received are merely being filed.

Builders have looked over National league park with a view to increasing the seating capacity in the event the Phillies land the flag. One of the tentative plans is to erect bleacher seats outside the grounds on the side walks of the streets bounding the right and left field sides of the park.

WHITE TRUCKS

Awarded the GRAND PRIZE

BY THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION AT SAN FRANCISCO

THE ONLY GRAND PRIZE—THE HIGHEST AWARD FOR MOTOR TRUCKS

Was conferred upon White Trucks by the Superior Jury of Award, as officially announced by the Secretary of the Jury under date of August Second. This is the ONLY GRAND PRIZE received by any motor truck at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

This decision of the Superior Jury of Award reflects the opinion of the largest users of motor trucks throughout the world—and is in accordance with the actual service results of motor truck experience. The points of merit upon which the Grand Prize is awarded are identical with those that have determined the selection of White Trucks by America's foremost firms in every line of business.

White supremacy in the motor truck industry is thus recognized by the highest award that can be bestowed by the greatest exposition the world has ever known—just as this supremacy has been recognized by motor truck users for many years.

REGARDING OTHER CLAIMS

The decision of the Superior Jury is final in the matter of Exposition awards. Hence any announcements of other motor truck manufacturers, claiming to have received the Grand Prize and Highest Award for motor trucks at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, are automatically denied by this decision of the Superior Jury of Award.

The Sexes in Church.
The separation of the sexes seems to have been formerly by no means an uncommon practice in the Church of England. In fact, Edward VI's prayer book specially mentions that at the communion service "the men shall tarry on one side and the women on the other." The papers of a church in Westmorland include elaborate directions for the division of the sexes at its services. All wedded men were to be placed first before any of the young men, and all young wives were to "forbear and come not at their mother-in-law's forms"—this was presumably before the days of the pew—"as long as their mother-in-law lives."—London Standard.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

RAILWAYS SHARE IN STRONG AND ACTIVE STOCK MARKET

Close Is Heavy at 1 to 3 Cents Down—Other Leading Staples All Show Net Losses.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Low priced Canadian offers to Liverpool and to millers in the United States led to a fresh decline today in the wheat market here. The close was heavy 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 to 3¢ down, with December at 93 1/2¢ to 94¢ and May at 96 1/2¢ to 97¢.

Other leading staples, too, showed a net loss—corn 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ to 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ and provisions 7 to 25¢.

Wheat at no time displayed any decided power to rally. The fact that the pressure of the big Canadian crop had resulted in a sharp decline at Liverpool seemed to have a discouraging effect right at the outset and was quickly supplemented by advice that some millers in the United States were buying Canadian wheat as being both cheaper and better this season than domestic wheat either winter or spring. Bulls were further depressed by the high freight rates demanded on vessels from the United States for Europe and by an additional break in quotations for sterling exchange.

Numerous stock orders were executed owing to the continued decline of the wheat market late in the day. Predictions of large receipts here Monday were current and there was also a forecast of a small increase in the United States visible supply total.

Accordingly the ruling prices at the close were almost the lowest of the session.

Corn worked lower in sympathy with wheat. Favorable weather prevailed and notices of rural consignments expanded to a noticeable extent.

Oats followed the bearish lead of other cereals. Selling was checked somewhat, though, by the comparative slowness of the crop movement.

Further sharp breaks in the value of hogs made holders of provisions be disposed to unload. The market, however, lacked support and the selling was not pressed.

FAMOUS DANISH VETERINARIAN WRITES OF FOOT & MOUTH DISEASE

Dr. Bang Relates Experience Among Dairy Herds There Covering an Extended Period—Care, Isolation and Regular Disinfection the Only Things Helpful.

The following article about the experience with foot and mouth disease in Denmark and editorial comment thereon appeared in Hoad's Dairyman. Subsequently the articles were reprinted for distribution by the Union Stock Yards & Transit Co. of Chicago.

Hoad's Dairyman:—Since November, 1914, foot and mouth disease has been rampant among the Danish dairy herds. Owing to the prevalence of the disease no shows except horse shows were held this summer. In August, 1915, in the course of an interview, Dr. Bang, the famous Danish veterinary surgeon, expressed himself as follows with regard to the outbreak:

"It is quite true that there is a considerable decline in the number of herds attacked. It was as high as 300 in the week, now it is down to 63. But even 63 is an alarming number, so that there is no reason for giving the people the impression that the danger is past, because such is not the case. My opinion is that if the disinfecting, isolating, and other measures adopted to stamp out the disease are persisted in, with unabated vigor, there is hope of its speedy eradication. We should learn from the experience of Schleswig and Holstein, where the disease reached its height in March, 1915, i. e., 1500 herds of which 500 were attacked during the previous fourteen days. In June this number had declined to 853 herds of which 341 were attacked during the previous fourteen days, whilst in July the number of herds attacked increased to 1800. The abatement of the disease in June caused the people to relax their efforts to stamp it out and then it broke out more vigorously than ever.

"The present Danish outbreak is the largest we have had since I began to deal with such matters in 1880. In 1892, only 400 herds were attacked, and then a number of years passed during which there were only sporadic outbreaks that were quickly stamped out. In 1911-12 no fewer than 1285 herds were attacked, but this outbreak was also successfully met and eradicated. From November 1914 up to the present (Aug. 5th, 1915) the existence of the disease has been ascertained in no fewer than 5734 herds. And the end is not yet. The ravages of the disease have been greatest on the islands of Zealand, Funen and Lolland, whilst Jutland has escaped in a remarkable way; only 100 herds on the mainland being attacked. The fact of the matter is, the Zealanders are careful and cautious, as soon as they hear of an outbreak, so the neighborhood, martial law, so to speak, is proclaimed and every necessary precaution is taken; and this is, in truth, the only thing that helps. The Zealanders and natives of Funen are of a more happy-go-lucky nature and their islands are more thickly populated. These are important factors, because the intercourse between farms being greater the risk of transmitting the disease is multiplied many times by the happy-go-lucky methods.

"The extent of the outbreaks in 1911-12 and 1914-15 is as follows: No. of herds Total no. Total no. attacked of cows of pigs
1911-12 1285 48,000 24,000
1914-15 5734 200,000 130,000
"Cows suffering from the disease go back in their milk to such an extent as to entail a loss of $5 to $7.50 for each animal. If we take $6.25 as the average, the loss of milk alone amounts to one and a quarter million dollars.

"In addition to this, the mortality in 1911-12 constituted 1-2 per cent for adult animals; 3-4 per cent for young stock; and over 23 per cent for calves. In 1914-15 the percentages all round were higher; 37 adult animals died at Kosselitz and 100 at Brattingsboro on the island of Samso. Nearly all the young hogs, and many adult hogs, attacked by the disease died also.

"The only things that help are care, caution, isolation, and regular disinfection. Laxity in regard to these things will entail still larger losses than those already sustained."

J. J. Danne.
In another column will be found a discussion by Dr. Bang of Denmark on the present condition of foot and mouth disease in that country. His discussion is of particular interest at this time for the following reasons: The Danish outbreak started at about the same time the disease was discovered in this country; it was handled by the isolation, or quarantine method; the disease has apparently been more virulent in that country and the present status of the disease is not as encouraging in Denmark as it is in the United States.

From the statements made it would appear that Dr. Melvin and the Bureau of Animal Industry are upheld in their contention as to the losses which may be anticipated as a result of this plague and that our present experience in this country is not sufficient to form the basis of a final judgment. Perhaps the United States may have to come to the isolation policy and accept the disease as indigenous to the country, yet Denmark's experience warns us that the wisest policy for us to follow, at the present time, is to slaughter and bury the contagion. Their experience shows how difficult it is to control the disease by quarantine. It should be noted also that after nine or ten months trying to stop the spread of the disease there are still 63 fresh outbreaks weekly. While we have not been able to stamp out the disease entirely, yet we have it under control and no one fears a general outbreak again.

Further, the farmers in Denmark, or where the isolation system is followed, bear the entire expense of the disease, but in this country, where the slaughtering system is followed every tax payer helps share the loss. It is the desire of all that the foot-and-mouth disease be stamped out in this country, but there are varying opinions as to the best method of accomplishing this. Those who have felt that the government has been wrong in slaughtering cattle and hogs affected with foot-and-mouth disease, should read carefully Dr. Bang's statements and reflect upon what the disease is costing the farmers of Denmark and also upon the final results.

NOI SE.

Noise is a disturbance in the atmosphere which causes the ear drum and causes the owner thereof to sigh for a pleasant home in a town which hasn't a commercial club.

Noise is produced by dogs, locomotives, machine guns, babies, college students, cheap orchestras, politicians, locomotive whistles, scare-head newspaper, volcanoes, and other things.

It is usually disagreeable and inventors often work all night trying to produce noiseless institutions of one kind or another. They have made the automobile as quiet as a tombstone, but have not been able to do anything as yet for the automatic piano or the self-made man who is trying to advertise the fact.

A few noiseless politicians have been perfected in the last century, but as a rule they have been more fatal than the reverberating kind. A politician can be compelled to work with cowbells tied on him.

About five years ago the noise was strained out of the Fourth of July with great success. We now have a perfectly quiet Fourth, and celebrate our national birthday by closing the banks.

Some people are naturally quiet and can remove an entire tinware store in a one-horse-wagon with loose spokes without awakening the police—while other people are so noisy they cannot read a religious paper without keeping the neighborhood awake by yelling for more quiet.

This nation is very fond of noise and uses it at times with great success as a substitute for music, theology, statesmanship, advertising and argument. Of late years it has become impossible to feed in public without being assisted by noise. There are few stranger sights than that of a New York man yelling pleasantly to a guest across a table.

He close behind him a reformed boiler-shop worker is committing personal assault on a snare drum, a triangle, a bass drum and a xylophone. Anti-noise societies are now being formed all over the country, and if they succeed in their crusade we may have to pay fifty cents a day to see the home team play ball instead of standing outside the fence and keeping the run of the game by the rise and fall of the noise of the crowd.

What Have the British Done?

Richmond News-Leader:—"Yes, the French are wonders and the Russians have put up a game fight, but the British have done nothing. I can't understand it. They have 'laid down' on their allies." With these or similar words most of the local debates on the war are being concluded. And in this sentiment, if nothing else, seems to be general accord. The British are not "doing their part"; they have left the fighting to the French.

To explode this curious myth, it is only necessary, we think, to remind our readers of Great Britain's military strength at the outbreak of the war and to list, as briefly as possible, her achievements on land and water since that time. The record will speak for itself.

A year ago Great Britain had the largest navy and the smallest standing army of any of the great European powers. Her total military establishment was 254,000 white men, of whom 76,000 were stationed in India. Germany had more first-line men on the French frontier, when the war began, than Great Britain had all over the world. The total British force immediately available for service on the continent was scarcely 12 per cent of the army Germany kept with the colors in time of the most profound peace. Her field ordnance and her reserve of small arms were in proportion.

Yet here is what she has done. 1. She has bottled the German navy in the Kiel canal so securely that not a German vessel, other than a submarine, has ventured into the North sea since January 24th, when the Buecher was sunk.

2. She has completely driven the German flag from the seas of the world. The only German merchant men not now interned or tied up in home ports are those in the Baltic sea.

3. She has destroyed or forced into internment every German man-of-war absent from home waters on the outbreak of the war.

4. She has raised, equipped and put into the field more than 2,000,000 men in addition to those available last August. She has more than another million in reserve or in training. All these troops are amply supplied with arms, uniforms, transports, etc.

5. She has multiplied the output of her arms factories more than twenty times and she has increased by 700 per cent the air craft available for her forces last August.

6. She has financed the Belgian and Serbian governments and has loaned large sums to Russia and to Italy.

7. She has seized, in Africa, German colonial possessions more than four times the area of the Fatherland, in the Orient, with the assistance of Japan, she has hauled down the German flag from every settlement, every island and every coaling station that owed allegiance to the Kaiser.

8. She landed in France a small force, approximately 110,000 men, at a time when these reinforcements enabled General Joffre to form the army that took Von Kluck in flank on the Marne.

9. In the battle of the Marne, the British led the attack that drove back the German host from the approaches of Paris; in the battle of the Aisne they forced the crossing of the river and enabled General Joffre to inaugurate flanking tactics.

10. Transported to the Yser, the British took the Ypres-La-Bassee line and held it against continuous attacks from October 19th to November 5th and again from November 10 to December. These attacks were intended to open the road to Calais, were of the most vital importance to the allies and cost the Germans 200,000 men.

11. The British were entrusted by General Joffre with the front where the Germans were strongest and they have been subjected to more constant unremitting attacks than have been delivered by the Germans against any of the other western defenses.

12. After nine months' fighting on the Ypres line, despite the fact that the Germans have repeatedly hurled their best troops against the front, the British lines today are at no point farther to the westward than when the Germans began their assault. On most parts of the front the British have gained ground.

13. The British have supplied 75 per cent of the men and ships employed in the operations against the Dardanelles and have made the landings which are ultimately to open the way to Constantinople.

14. In addition and until the surrender of the last German forces in Africa, Great Britain was then conducting five other overseas campaigns—on the Sinai peninsula, at the head of the Persian Gulf, in the Cameroons (equatorial Africa), in German East Africa, and in German Southwest Africa. These were exclusive of all operations in the Orient and in the Mediterranean.

15. The British casualties, to the date of last reports, were 330,995, an average of 13,000 a week, or almost 1,800 a day.

All this may, of course, mean that the British have "done nothing". But if it does, Heaven help the Teutonic allies when the British rally and begin fighting.

The Blue Heron.

Notwithstanding the nature fakers who write wonderfully unsound natural history, the heron does not spear prey with its bill (nor does the loon); it bites them, nips them between the long, sharp mandibles. We have had captive herons and have seen thousands of wild ones all over this continent, and they do not do the silly trash told of them by the nature fakers. Some of the nests are as big as a small haystack, built upon year after year until they reach enormous weights, very often up to 500 pounds.—Outing.

STATE TORREON WILL BE CLEAR OF VILLA TROOPS BY MONDAY

Foreigners State Murder of Mexicans on Streets of Torreon is a Nightly Occurrence.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 18.—Foreigners arriving today at the border from Torreon in response to the advice of the state department for Americans to leave Northern Mexico, declared tonight that Torreon would be clear of Villa troops by Monday at the latest.

The trip north of the refugees was delayed frequently to permit troop trains hurrying to Chihuahua to pass and it was reported that after the departure of the refugees, a wholesale movement of troops to Chihuahua would begin.

It was said Villa had about two officers to one private and that the total number did not exceed 12,000, if that many.

Murder of Mexicans was a nightly occurrence on the streets of Torreon, it was reported. In none of the shooting affrays of Torreon, however, was a foreigner injured.

FIVE MEMBERS OF SMITHSONIAN EXPEDITION RETURN TO NOME

NOME, Alaska, Sept. 18.—Five members of the Smithsonian Institution expedition which left Seattle under command of Johann Koren, the Norwegian naturalist, in June 1914, to collect specimens in the Arctic, returned to Nome today aboard the power schooner Eagle from the Siberian coast. They were Copley Armstrong, Benjamin Alexander, Alexander Randmarke and Alfred Anderson, naturalists, and Harold Wickeoff, photographer. Koren and other members of the expedition remained in Siberia where they will spend another winter conducting scientific investigations.

Modern Dentistry

Our crown and bridge work is the only method in dental science that is permanent and which perfectly equalize the strain of mastication. It is the only possible method which permits the fullest enjoyment while eating, because the functions of the whole mouth can be exercised. This is impossible in the old-fashioned plate. These teeth look like your own teeth, feel like your own teeth and to all intents and purposes, are your own teeth; and with moderate care will last a lifetime. Only gold and porcelain are used in their construction; but, notwithstanding, the cost is comparatively low. Estimates free.

FOOTBALL BEGINS AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR SEASON'S WORK ON GRIDIRON.

Coach Harmon Will Have Practically All Old Men Back and New Material Looks Promising. Resume of New Rules of game.

Season's Schedule.

Oct. 9—Lombard at Jacksonville.
Oct. 16—Normal at Normal.
Oct. 23—Shurtleff at Alton.
Oct. 30—Wesleyan at Jacksonville.
Nov. 6—Millikin at Jacksonville.
Nov. 13—Lincoln at Lincoln.
Nov. 20—Cardage at Jacksonville.
Nov. 25—No game scheduled.

Football prospects at Old Illinois look bright this fall. On the eve of the opening of school, Coach Harmon has been assured that practically all his last year's team will be back and with the promised new material, stock in the eleven should be above par. Last season, Coach Harmon's "machine" was pretty well known throughout the bounds of the minor college conference, and it was only through bad luck that the honors of 1914 did not fall to Illinois.

First Game at Home.

As will be noted by the schedule above, the first game of the season will be played here with Lombard as an opponent. In past years the Lombard fellows have always been a worthy foe of I. C. and naturally the fellows are looking for no walk away in this initial game. Wesleyan and Millikin, two teams whom Jacksonville would rather defeat than any two other teams in the conference, follow a week apart. The games played away will be with Shurtleff, Lincoln and Normal. Up to this time Coach Harmon has not been successful in booking a game for Thanksgiving day. The agreement made with William and Vashit college of Aledo for turkey day was completed on the appearance of W. and V. here last fall. The contract was not renewed this year on account of the difficulty in reaching Aledo, the trip being a killing one. Illinois' strength as to Williams and Vashit will have to be measured by comparison with scores of other schools.

It is a regrettable fact that Illinois will not meet Bradley this season. There has always been the best of feeling between the two institutions and the rivalry has been of the keenest kind. It is hoped that there will be a slip somewhere during the coming weeks whereby a game can be arranged between the two institutions.

Old Men Back.

Among the old line men back are Karch, McLaughlin, Frisbie, Theobald, Russell, Mitchell and Pierce. Acheson, of Mt. Vernon, who played center on the squad, has not determined as yet whether he will return to school. In the backfield there will be Capt. Stewart, ex-capt. Alford, Wilson, Helmle, Whistler, Jones, Lukeman and Sooy. Most of these men have been doing "hard labor" during the summer months and are entering school in the finest of physical condition. In addition to these old men it is promised that Dick Reynolds the star quarter back on the high school team last year will join the Illinois squad. Other new men are Wilson, brother of the Wilson now in school. He played center on the Springfield team last year. Then there is Rietler, who played end on the Springfield team last season, and Mellor, a tackle with the Greenfield squad last season. Reports come of a 190 pound youth from Pleasant Hill who has the football fever with a high temperature. Other men have given pledges that they will attend Illinois the coming year, so that Coach Harmon need not worry as to material of the right sort.

Start Work Monday.

"We're going to start work with a rush Monday," said Coach Harmon yesterday. When asked about the prospects for the coming year, the coach was reticent except that he remarked that Illinois intended to hold her own this year, but in football as in every other game, there is that factor of luck and then sickness and injury can often play an important part. "We are going to give the teams we meet this season, the best we've got."

New Football Rules.

The following are some of the changes noted for the season: "A field judge shall be obligatory. This means there will be three officials on the field of play and a man on the side lines. It is from the linesman that most of the duties of the field judge have been taken. The object is that the linesmen may be more careful in observing the offside zone. Because of the many duties of the head linesman the rules committee amended the rules so that the field judge shall keep time and look after play on the field.

Players Wear Numbers.

The rules committee recommends that the players wear numerals, especially in the university and college games and in preparatory school contests if the authorities can afford the expense. The result of numbering players has met with such success in basketball that the public demands this feature.

Checks Rough Tactics.

There will be no more roughing at the secondary defense after the ball has been declared dead by the referee if strict officiating is adhered to. In such case an interferer who strikes a player of the defending side after the whistle has tooted shall subject his team to a fifteen-yard penalty. It is a regular occurrence at any big football game to see an interferer dive at a player of the secondary defense and throw his feet in the air with the idea of striking his opponent in the face. As a general rule these infractions are committed after the ball has been declared dead five to ten yards back of the point where the offense occurred.

To Protect Fullback.

A chief duty of the field judge will be to protect the defensive fullback, one of the most important players of any team, while on the defensive. If a player runs into the fullback while the latter is attempting to catch a punt, his team shall be penalized fifteen yards. The defensive fullback, if he is a careful and game player, will first make sure of the ball. He can only do this by watching the oval in its flight, which is a hard task, considering the wind currents and the manner in which the ball is booted. He cannot at the same time watch the ball, judge it accurately, and try to evade the tacklers. Some protection must be given him before he catches the ball and strict officiating in this angle will greatly reduce a number of injuries.

Ball Out of Bounds.

Intentional throwing of the ball out of bounds has also received a jolt. A forward pass thrown out of bounds whether it touches a player of either side, now is ruled incomplete. A penalty of a down is inflicted and the ball brought back to the point of the previous down. Players have been developed to throw the oval with the accuracy of a baseball down the field. As the old rule gave the ball to the defending team at the point where it went out of bounds, it worked a hardship on the defensive eleven. Offense and defense are more equalized by the latest change. In passing the ball the center must make a complete motion. There will be no more holding of the ball between the legs of the passer in a delayed manner so that an end or tackle may swing around and grab it. The penalty is fifteen yards.

CHICAGO MUNICIPAL PIER IS NEARING COMPLETION

Improvement Which Cost $4,000,000 Will be Open to Lake Navigation Next April.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Chicago's municipal pier, the largest and most unique structure of its kind in the world, is rapidly nearing completion. Construction work on the improvement, which cost $4,000,000 will be finished December 15 and it will be ready for service at opening of lake navigation next April. It is a combination passenger and freight terminal and a public recreation pier.

It marks the first step in Chicago's new outer harbor plan which is designed to concentrate all lake steamers passenger and light freight business on the lake front and relieve congestion in the Chicago river as well as furnish recreation for hundreds of thousands of men, women and children during the summer months.

The pier, which is constructed of concrete, steel and brick, extends 3,500 feet into Lake Michigan from the foot of Grand Avenue, is 232 feet wide and is two stories in height. One feature which it is expected will prove popular is an elevated 16-foot board walk 50 feet above the water, encircling the entire pier which will afford a promenade more than a mile in length.

Along each side of the pier are freight docks on the lower floor and passenger docks on the upper deck. On the lower deck are railroad switch tracks and roadways for wagons for handling freight. The upper deck contains an 80 foot roadway for trolley cars and automobiles.

At the end of the pier are the administration offices, power plant and two water storage tanks, with a capacity of 60,000 gallons each, which will feed a sprinkler system as a precaution against fire in the freight houses.

The recreation pier is located at the other end of the pier and is 560 feet long. It contains a 4 story brick building with two ornamental towers 160 feet in height which will be brilliantly illuminated at night.

One of the first two floors will be rest rooms for women and children, smoking rooms for men, a large public comfort station and rooms for the use of picnic parties. The third floor will contain an auditorium with a seating capacity for 4,000 persons where dances and concerts will be held. The top floor will be devoted to a restaurant with several thousand seats where meals will be served at cost.

In one corner of the building will be an emergency hospital. Back of the large recreation building will be a double decked open shelter 220 feet long and 80 feet wide supplied with hundreds of chairs and porch hammocks.

In one corner of the open shelter there will be a play space for children. Seven steamship lines and owners of dozens of independent steamers have applied for dock space on the pier.

It is expected that the rent received from the use of the docks and the various other concessions will maintain the pier and eventually pay for the city's original investment in the improvement.

The federal government is building new breakwaters at an expense of $1,000,000 to protect the municipal pier.

Plans for Chicago's Municipal Pier were ordered prepared by the city council January 2, 1912, and construction work began March 17, 1914 after the citizens, by referendum vote, had affirmed a $5,000,000 bond issue to pay for the improvement.

GARMENT WORKERS' HEALTH IS IMPORTANT FACTOR

U. S. Public Health Service Reports on Health of Workers and Hygienic Conditions of Illumination of Garment Shops.

The United States Public Health Service today issues Public Health Bulletin No. 71, a report upon the health of garment workers. This is the first of a series of studies of the effect of industries upon the health of the individual workmen and was undertaken in the women's garment industries of New York City during the summer of 1914. The Joint Board of Sanitary Control of the industries in question and the various labor unions concerned joined in requesting this study and co-operated in its performance.

Three Thousand Workers Examined.

Two thousand male workers and one thousand female workers volunteered for careful physical examinations by officers of the U. S. Public Health Service. Only about 2 per cent of the total number examined were found free from defect or disease, there being recorded 13,457 defects of all kinds of which 9,451 were in male, 3,915 in females, or an average of 4.36 defects and diseases to each individual examined. While not all of these were serious defects, many of the conditions noted exercised a deleterious effect upon the individual. An interesting feature of the report is that there were discovered no vocational diseases peculiar to the garment trades, but this sedentary industry was shown to intensify the bad effects upon health and efficiency of certain defects and diseases.

Prevalence of Tuberculosis.

Among males the rate of prevalence of tuberculosis was found to be ten times that in the United States army, and three times the Army rate among females. The disease was most prevalent among "the lowest paid class of workers."

Defective Vision Common.

Apart from tuberculosis, the most common defects and diseases noted among the garment workers were defective vision, 69 per cent; faulty posture, 50 per cent of males; chronic nose and throat affections, 26.2 per cent; weak and flat feet, 26 per cent; pyorrhea alveolaris, 20 per cent; weak and flat feet, 26 per cent; chronic constipation, 23.7 per cent; hypertrophied tonsils, 15.3 per cent; defective hearing, 10 per cent; and nervous affections, 7.75 per cent. Only 11 1/2 per cent of those with subnormal eyesight wore glasses, and but 2.35 per cent of these had glasses which fully corrected the defect.

Faulty Postures.

The report which the United States Health Service is just issuing shows that faulty postures were very common among the garment workers. The effect of previous military training received by foreign born garment workers in European armies, or the voluntary physical training in other workers, were marked in preventing the formation of poor postural habits.

The conclusion reached by the investigators is "that a large part of the defects and disease of garment workers arise from ignorance or neglect of personal hygiene. A proper regard of these principles on the part of the workers would go far in nullifying the bad effects of the sedentary indoor occupation upon the health." In this connection the recommendation is made that the education of the workers in personal hygiene, especially the correction of visual defects, the formation of correct postural habits and attention to oral hygiene, will do much to correct this condition. The report points out the necessity for better instruction of school children in personal hygiene and the necessity for their postural training is insisted upon.

Illumination of Garment Workshops. In 34 workshops careful measurements were made of the light at the stations of the workers, and it was found that the illumination was inadequate at a little over one half of all the stations, some 1800 in all, at which the workers were located. Common defects noted were poor arrangement of working stations with reference to windows, reduction of available natural illumination by the use of unnecessary opaque partitions, neglect to clean windows, obstruction of windows by piles of garments, the use of clear, unshaded lamps, the use of saucer and disk reflectors for local illumination, the use of lamps too large for the reflectors employed, dirty reflectors and lamps, too high or too low suspension of lamps, lamps missing, blackened, burned out or short circuited, the use of a few large instead of a greater number of smaller units for local illumination, and lack of uniformity in the distribution of light upon stations where workers are located.

The Public Health Service is engaged in making similar investigations with regard to other trades, and will issue similar reports at subsequent times.

Miss Margaret Gorman of the Gravel Springs Co., office, is expected to return today from Murrayville where she made a vacation visit with relatives.

MRS. EVERETT MARTIN IS GRANTED DIVORCE AND CUSTODY OF CHILDREN

Alimony Fixed at $10,000 and $75
Per Month—Cruelty Charge Made Against Former Minister.

A Des Moines paper gives the following account of the divorce proceedings brought by Mrs. Everett Martin against her husband, Dr. Everett D. Martin. The divorce was recently allowed on the ground of continued cruelty and the court fixed the alimony at $10,000 and with the addition of $75 a month to be paid for the support of the children until they have attained their majority. The Des Moines account is as follows:

"Mrs. Esther K. Martin late yesterday afternoon was granted a divorce from Dr. Everett Dean Martin, formerly pastor of the First Unitarian church here, by District Judge Charles A. Dudley.

"Mrs. Martin, who charged her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment, was granted the custody of their three children, Mary, 7 years old, Margaret, 6, and Betty, 3. She was granted $10,000 as personal permanent alimony and $75 a month for the support and education of the children until they have attained majority, after which the husband will contribute $25 a month.

"Mrs. Martin sought $50,000 as permanent alimony. The $10,000 allowed by Judge Dudley will draw interest at 6 per cent. until 'tuney paid.'

"The divorce went by default and was disposed of very quietly, only two or three persons being present in the court room besides Mrs. Martin, her attorney, James C. Hume and Judge Dudley.

"Mrs. Martin's story differed very little from the usual stories heard in the divorce courts on 'default days' she said that her husband had been extremely cruel toward her since their marriage, and that he would leave her alone at night after night, seemingly not caring for her company. His neglect, she said, had grown more marked in recent months.

"Mrs. Martin's petition was filed in the district court here about four weeks ago. She alleged cruel and inhuman treatment and asserted that although she and her husband had occupied the same residence, they had lived apart for the last two years.

"Dr. Martin is engaged in newspaper work in New York now. He left Des Moines several months ago."

WHEAT SOWING DELAYED.
One question which now confronts the farmers in Morgan county as well as in various sections of the state is with reference to wheat sowing. The chances are that corn will be very late in maturing and that the possibility of cutting the corn in time to have wheat drilled in is somewhat remote. There has not been an opportunity either for doing a great deal of late summer or fall plowing for wheat, as many fields were so wet that it was impossible to do this work. Other conditions have so combined that it now seems certain that the acreage sown to wheat this year will by no means equal the expectations or the wishes of farmers in this regard.

EVIDENCE IS CONCLUDED IN JACKSONVILLE RATE CASE

Attorneys Have Two Months for Preparing Briefs—Finding Expected About January First—Mr. Miser Declares Company Has Sought to Develop Gas Business.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The evidence in the Jacksonville rate case before Commissioner Shaw, was completed today. By agreement attorneys for the petitioners and the company have until Nov. 25 to file briefs. Commissioner Shaw indicated that the commission finding would probably be made known about Jan. 1.

There were some indications today of an intention on the part of the company, to carry the case to the courts if the commission finding is not satisfactory to them, when attorney H. I. Green, declined to waive the company's right of appeal. At the session today B. E. Bramble, auditor of Illinois Traction company, and L. E. Fisher were on the stand. A. B. Little, gas expert, for the commission, was again a witness, and particular attention was paid to his statements wherein he charged the gas company with sacrificing gas business, by making a more earnest endeavor to develop the electrical business. His testimony also laid emphasis upon alleged excessive gas leakage and upon the increase of operating expenses during the last two years.

W. B. Miser, superintendent of the Jacksonville Utilities, was a witness, and produced records to show the large number of gas ranges sold during the last 18 months, in addition to other equipment, which would indicate the effort made to increase gas sales. Mr. Miser testified that the increased cost of operation were largely due to the improvements in equipment at the plant. He said that while these improvements were in course of construction, that the inconvenience in operation caused greatly increased costs. The charges also reduced the returns from by-products, he declared. He also testified with reference to gas leakage maintaining that the leakage in Jacksonville was about the average shown in plants of this size.

BIG LOAN UNDESIRABLE.
John A. Ayers stated yesterday that since the discussion concerning a great American loan to the allies that he had given the matter very earnest consideration. Referring to the subject he said: "In my judgment American capitalists ought not to accept the tender of Great Britain and France of their bonds as collateral for the proposed loan, inasmuch as these bonds are the obligations of their respective governments, and have no intrinsic value. It is sufficient comment, it seems to me, that the judgment of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who have been consulted, does not approve of the proposed step. This firm includes some of the wisest financial men in America."
